McNealy quits post as Sumpter police chief

By HENRY CANTIN

Sumpter Township's first police chief has resigned to accept the post of deputy chief of the Royal Oak Township Public Safety Department.

David W. McNealy, 40, of 6664 Gloria St., Romulus, assumed his new duties on Monday at an annual pay of $10,500, an increase of $500 over his salary in Sumpter Township.

McNealy was hired by the Royal Oak Township Board of Trustees last Thursday night. Township Supervisor Douglas Anderson reported McNealy was hired to take the place of Safety Director Howard L. Bibb, who is scheduled to retire in March, 1973 after 25 years service.

In Royal Oak Township McNealy will supervise a staff of 24, including three policemen and an additional police auxiliary of six officers. In addition, he will assist in the supervision of the township's fire department a division under the public safety director.

McNealy was appointed Sumpter's first police chief in October but actually took over the post of supervising the nine-man force in November, 1971.

Police Commissioner Virgil W. Humphreys, who recommended the appointment of McNealy to the township board, reported he did not know what the township board would do about replacing McNealy.

Royal Oak Township is one half square mile in area, located along the Oakland County side of Eight Mile road, east of Meyers Road.

Approximately two-thirds of its 6,300 population is black while in Sumpter, about one fourth of the population of 8,000 residents is black.

The appointment of McNealy, considered an outsider by some in the township, ignited a heated controversy in the township. A citizens group, members of the police force and Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi objected to the appointment. The township was torn by demands for McNealy's ouster and criticism of his policies.

Initial actions by McNealy, including the suspension of the then-acting police chief Jerry Cox, were part of the major reasons for a recall campaign against the township clerk and four township trustees.

McNealy said Monday he did not expect to have the same problems in Royal Oak Township as he found in Sumpter.

A decision on whether or not the Romulus Community School District can maintain its current educational programs, services and teaching staff will be made by the school district's electorate in a special school election scheduled for Monday.

Qualified voters residing in the school district will cast their ballots on March 13 on a millage proposition calling for the renewal of 10 mills for school operating expenses.

The 10-mill tax levy on each $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized, expired with the collection of the 1971 school property tax.

Members of the Romulus Board of Education and School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy earnestly urged voter approval of the millage renewal.

McConeghy reports the 10-mills represents 25 per cent of the school district's current operating budget.

While the Board of Education has not stated what, if any, educational programs, services or possible teaching staff reductions would be made if the millage fails to gain voter approval, some knowledgeable school people reported that with a 25 per cent cut in the schools' operating monies, cutbacks would be necessary.

The election has garnered quite a lot of interest in the district. The Romulus Area Parents and Teachers Association has taken on the responsibility of spearheading the campaign for passage of the 10-mill tax levy renewal. The Romulus Jaycees and other service organizations, as well as many of the community's leading citizens and professional people, are supporting the millage renewal.

Approximately $1.5 million is provided for the operation of the school district by the expired 10-mills, which were approved by the voters in June, 1967 and assessed annually for the last five years.

McConeghy, in urging the millage renewal approval, recently stated, "In order for the school district to continue with even current operations, it is imperative the expired 10 mills be renewed. Without the revenue provided, it will mean the school district will have to cut its operating budget by 25 per cent."

The school district's total operation levy is 27.9 mills and the debt retirement levy is 3 mills for total school tax levy of 30.9 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized. This levy includes the 10 mills renewal being presented to the voters on March 13.

Workers agree to strike

Members of Local 157 of the United Auto Workers (UAW), employed at the General Motors Corp. warehouse, located at Willow Run in Van Buren Township, have voted overwhelmingly to strike to enforce contract demands.

Secretary of the Local, David Szala, reported about 97 per cent of the local's approximately 500 members working at the plant voted to strike at a union meeting held last Sunday.

No date for the strike was set at the plant, which provides parts for the GM Truck and Coach Division.

Szala stated union leaders hope the company will come to an agreement when advised of the strike vote. Both union and company representatives are negotiating the plant's first employe contract.

The plant opened last June. The employes chose the UAW as their bargaining agent in September and negotiations have been under way since.

posters. With them are (from left) Louise Vestuart and Audrey Vestuart, employees of the Romulus City Drugs, where the posters were put on display.

Three-year pact reached

By HENRY CANTIN

Members of Local 214 of the Teamsters, State, County and Municipal Workers, are back at their city jobs in Romulus with a city-union approved employment contract following a 13-day strike.

The 40 to 50 city employes involved voted 22-20 in favor of the contract which will raise wages and salaries 17 to 51 per cent over the next three years. The employes returned to work at 5 p.m. last Wednesday.

The strike began Feb. 17 over non-economic issues, including previously obtained employment benefits which the city proposed to eliminate or reduce.

The contract, as approved, calls for a 13 per cent pay hike in the first year and six per cent hikes in the second and third years. Pay raises in excess of those currently provided for under the present guidelines of the U. S. Pay Board will require that group's approval.

City employes will immediately receive a 5.5 per cent (or higher) pay increase. The city has agreed to appear before the federal pay board to see if the city employes can receive more than the federal guidelines.

Under the terms of the new contract, the 13 per cent pay hike is retroactive to Nov. 14, the start of Phase Two of the Presidential Wage and Price Freeze Program.

Both the secretarial and clerical employes under the new pact will receive a 13 per cent hike in the first year of the contract with the increase percentage of more than 5.5 per cent subject to federal pay board approval.

Employes at the Department of Public Works will receive pay hikes ranging from 19 to 54 per cent, depending on their classification.

City Building inspectors under the contract will receive a pay hike of $2,500 in the first year and 6.5 per cent hikes in the second and third years. They are currently receiving annual salaries of $8,500. The federal pay board would have to approve any increase over the allowable 5.5 per cent.

Jack Ford, business agent for the local union negotiator, stated "If the full raises aren't approved this year, the difference will be added to employe salaries once the wage restrictions are lifted." He added the union is satisfied with the settlement.

"As far as the language of the contract is concerned, it is a good contract. I do feel that rates provided for in the second and third year of the contract are below the pay standards of comparable and adjacent communities."

Union leaders and employes credited Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael's continued efforts in keeping the parties at the negotiating table for the contract settlement.

Continuous negotiation sessions were conducted at the Water Board Building last Friday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before a contract was finally agreed upon.

The three major areas of concern, those involving longevity, unused sick leave and arbitration of grievances, were the basis for the strike.

The union insisted these benefits, won by the employes under the old contract which expired in April, 1971, be continued as provided. The city's position was that the city council should have the final say on arbitration. On longevity, the city wanted to continue longevity until the employe salary reaches the last offer of the city, with longevity paid at the rate of $2 per month.

On unused sick leave, the city wanted to pay all accumulated sick leave at the end of the year in December.

On unused sick leave, the city finally agreed to maintain a 20-day maximum sick leave accumulation and in December of each year reimburse employes at the current salary rate for unused sick leave above the 20-day allowed.

On arbitration, the city and union agreed to continue arbitration procedures as before but to exclude wages, safety and matters involving safety equipment.

Longevity will be continued only to the point of employes receiving the first year pay increase as recommended in the fact finder's report.

Center offers help

Persons with problems, those who are lonely, people who have no one to talk to - all are invited to contact the Romulus Help Center at 941-7980 or for emergency help and referrals, to call 941-7970.

According to Tim Sypula and Peter Kertesz, volunteers, accents lately have been on the social and recreational aspect of the center's operation. More emphasis, they said, should be placed on the services the center has to offer the community.

"We want to help those who need someone to talk to about their troubles," said Sypula.

Lenten season

The following is the fourth of a series of Lenten Sermons by area pastors and leading churchmen. This week's article was submitted by Rev. Joseph F. Kernosek, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church of Romulus.

By REV. JOSEPH F. KERNOSEK

In today's society there is an intense search going on - a search to get "back to the joy of salvation" Ps51:12. Time Magazine (Jan. 24, 1972) carried a story of the Children of God. They are known as the storm troopers of the Jesus Revolution and have already established 60 colonies across different countries. They live in communes like the early Christians following an austere life style. They call the sinful world to repentance. Their message is expressed by a silent presence in public places, dressed in red sack cloth, daubed with ashes and bearing yokes. They carry placards with Old Testament threats of God's punishment for sin. Their understanding of the Gospel may be extreme but the ardour of their witness can make us reflect on sin, temptation and repentance.

LENT LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

Lent is a time to reflect on sin, temptation and repentance. Receiving ashes, supermarket specials for lenten lunches, or "giving up cigarettes" can remain just externals of Lent.

Today's gospel message goes much deeper - into the spirit - asking forgiveness and renewing our hope in Christ's redemptive power to change our lives.

"Be merciful Lord for we have sinned. Thoroughly wash me from my guilt and of my sin cleanse me."

A clean heart create for me O God, Cast me not out of your presence - Give me back the joy of your salvation (Ps.52)

Lent is early spring - a time to prepare the soil and plant the seeds of new life - a time to prepare for the new life of Easter. The seeds of human life do not grow by a fixed pattern; the pattern of our lives is determined by major decisions.

A young Montrealer took a risk and decided to give up a job without a future in order to pursue his talent as a draftsman.

With the help of Canada Manpower he succeeded and his decision has opened up an exciting future for him. For fiscal 1973 the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will displace the Pentagon as the largest government spender.

Sometimes life seems like a freeway. Miss the right interchange and you cannot find your way back. Get trapped in the speed lane and you can't get off at the right exit. Lent means reading the signs and getting into the road we want. It means gaining control of our lives.

Drug program set for tomorrow at Huron High

A community drug abuse program will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Huron High School, Roger Benner, community-school director, announced.

The purpose of the meeting is to present to the community the teachers' in-service program on drug abuse prevention training and to hear from the community on what residents would like to see in a community drug program.

"We feel that it is essential for the community to tell the Drug Prevention Committee what they would like to see included in a drug program. Many drug programs have been undertaken in the area that simply do not answer the questions that people have concerning drug abuse," Benner said. "This problem can be solved by persons attending this meeting and helping us plan a drug prevention program for the community."

The meeting will be held in the Huron High School Library.

Four plead guilty in theatre incident

Three of four persons arrested in the Feb. 20 raid on the Melody Art Theatre in Inkster pleaded guilty Wednesday in 22nd District Court to misdemeanor charges of sale of dangerous drugs, and examination for a fourth man, charged with sale of LSD, was adjourned.

Richard J. McKay, 19, of Dearborn, Rocky Michael

Gordonier fair pleases planners

Bill Raeck, Mrs. Mary Muggelberg and first grader Judy Cagle were the three persons most pleased with the outcome of the Gordonier Elementary School PTA fair held at the school Saturday.

Raeck, with assistance from Chuck Rohde and Bob Eberline, headed the successful event. It was the first time in several years that Gordonier PTA has undertaken the project.

Mrs. May Muggelberg, PTA president, called it a "real good turn out." Mrs. Pat Meyers was in charge of posters telling about the big day and crowds were waiting at the door when they opened at 11 a.m. The multi-purpose room was full throughout the day.

Hot dogs, chips, pop, cupcakes, ice cream and coffee were kitchen features with Mrs. Connie Eberline, Mrs. Tressa Rohde and Mrs. Dorothy Gierak keeping the food lines moving.

Judy Cagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Cagle of Smith Road, got excited about the day when her name was picked as winner of a new red and white Husky bicycle. She said she didn't mind in the least that it was a boy's bike. Judy's name was chosen from among 364 Gordonier students' names entered in the drawing.

Harry Bruce, 17, of New Boston, and Rodney Jacobs, 17, of Taylor, were arrested outside the theatre, located at 28765 Michigan Ave., at about 12:30 a.m., after they had allegedly sold drugs to undercover officers from the Wayne County Sheriff's department and Inkster police.

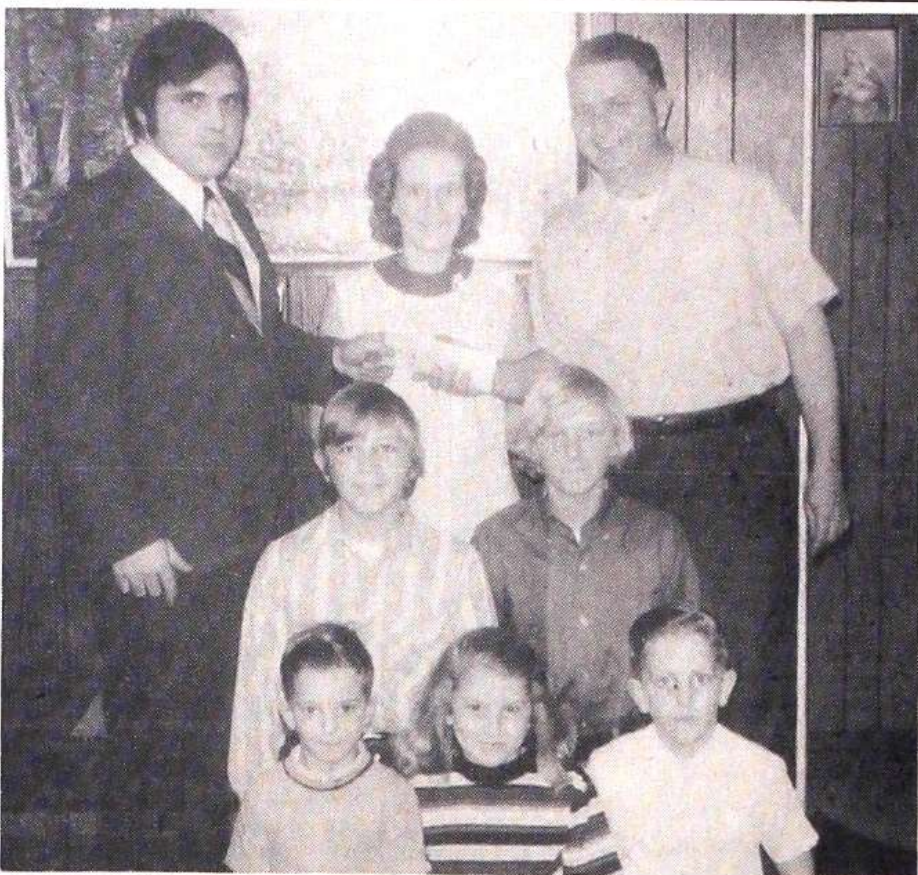

The fourth man, Blendon Jones, 22, of Lincoln Park, was arrested inside the theatre by two Inkster plainclothesmen. Sale of LSD is a felony and carries a maximum four-year prison term.

Four other persons were also arrested during the raid, including the theatre's chief of security police, Luther Dillon. Three of those persons were later released, and Dillon faces trial March 16 on a charge of interfering with a police officer.

Judge John McCartney set a sentencing date of March 10 for Jacobs, Bruce and McKay. Jones was released on a continuance of his bond.

Since the raid at the theatre, Inkster city officials have ordered the agent for the Melody Theatre Corp., Herman Sussman, not to hold any more rock concerts at the theatre.

In explaining their action, the city said the Melody rock shows constituted "a nuisance, and is dangerous to human life and is detrimental to the health of persons attending such shows." No rock show was held last Saturday, but the theatre has not been prohibited from screening their chief stock-in-trade, X-rated motion pictures.

DISNEYWORLD TRIP WINNERS - The Romulus Jaycees have announced the winners of its first Disneyworld raffle. Winners of the grand prize, a trip to Florida's Disneyworld, are Mr. and Mrs. Simon Marshiglia of Romulus. Raffle committee chairman, Richard Sente (left), presents a check for the trip to the Marshiglias who will take their five children on the trip. The children are (back row, from left) Michael and Simon, (front row, from left) Marc, Suzanne and Chris.

Family of seven wins Jaycee trip

A family of seven will be heading for Disneyworld in Florida thanks to the Romulus Jaycees.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Marshiglia of Romulus were the lucky winners of the Jaycees' first Disneyworld raffle, announced Garry Johnson, Jaycee president, and Richard Sente, raffle committee chairman.

The raffle drawing was held at the Feb. 22 meeting. When informed of the good news, Mrs. Joan Marshiglia said, "You've got to be kidding." A check to finance the trip was presented to the Marshiglias by Sente. Arrangements are being made now for the trip.

Accompanying the Marshiglias on the trip to Disneyworld will be their five children - Michael, Simon, Marc, Suzanne and Chris.

Second prize winners and also the Marshiglias received portable radios.

Sumpter seed sale winners announced

The winners of the recent spring seed sale conducted by the students at the Sumpter Elementary School have been announced by School Principal Thomas McLenon.

The winners are Roy Leffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leffler Sr., 46291 Wear Rd., Belleville; Leslie West, son of Mr. and Mrs. James West, 19180 Clark, Belleville; and Susan Kormos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kormos, 39678 Willis Rd., Belleville.

The top 11 sellers won prizes and attended a pizza party at the home of the school principal.

"David Larabell, teacher, has done a great job using his spare time to coordinate our two yearly sales at the Sumpter school," McLenon said.

"The proceeds are used to purchase classroom and school materials, as well as to provide a marionette show and at least one other event for the students each year. My compliments to Larabell and all the students who did such a great job on these projects," McLenon added.

Belleville vet elected SVMA vice-president

Dr. Dayton L. Prouty, owner and operator of the Belleville Animal Hospital, 437 Sumpter Rd., Belleville, has been elected vice-president of the Southeastern Veterinary Medical Association.

Also elected at the association's annual meeting, held at the Northland Inn on Feb. 23, were Dr. William Ezell, president, owner and operator of the Inkster Animal Hospital, 28438 Michigan Ave. Inkster, and Dr. William Mullen, president-elect, owner and operator of the Warren Woods Veterinary Hospital, 1277 Fairhome, Grosse Pointe Woods.

The Southeastern Veterinary Medical Association is an association comprised of 250 veterinarians serving the metropolitan Detroit area.

DR. PROUTY

The objectives of the association are to promote the science of veterinary medical practice and to procure the enactment of just and appropriate laws and regulations governing the practice of veterinary medicine.

Dr. Prouty holds a B.S. and D.V.M. (Doctor of Veterinary Medicine) from Michigan State University. He has practiced in Belleville since 1957.

He is past president of the Washtenaw County VMA and for the last three years has been a director of the Continuing Education, Southeastern MVMA. From 1970-72 Dr. Prouty was the chairman of the Ethics and Grievance Committee for the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association.

He is widely known in veterinary circles for his presentations on the control and treatment of heartworm disease in the canine.

Classes set on dieting, low cholesterol meals

A series of four classes in the techniques of preparing low cholesterol and weight reduction diets will be offered to residents in the Belleville area, beginning Tuesday evening, March 28 and continuing for four continuous Tuesdays, it was announced by Mrs. Dianne Batch, chairman of the Nutrition Committee of the Michigan Heart Association's Southern Wayne County Unit.

The classes, which will be instructed by Mrs. Margaret Brown of Belleville, a registered dietitian, will be held in Room 103 of Belleville High School. Classes will begin at 7:30 p.m., and run for two hours.

Class limit will be 30 persons. A fee of $5 will be charged each student, but the student's spouse will be admitted free. The first session will include an explanation of the medical reasons for low cholesterol and weight reduction diets by Dr. S. Phillip Grillo, a Belleville physician. In addition a film will be shown and the members of the class will be tested for knowledge of foods. A question and answer session will be held.

Precinct locations to be announced soon

The location of Van Buren Township's two new voting precincts will be announced soon, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk, reported.

The township board recently approved splitting up the township's present four voting polls to meet population and voter increase in the township.

The present voting polls are located as follows: precincts one and four in Fire Hall 1 at Fourth and Main streets and precincts two and three at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

It was erroneously reported precinct two and three were located at Fire Hall 2 at Ecorse and Belleville roads.

A map showing precinct locations after the split will be available soon at the township hall.

Romulus voters go to polls

The district's operating budget for the 1971-72 school year is $5,870,000, and the teaching staff consists of 303 teachers.

The 10-mill renewal proposition is for a five-year period from 1972 to 1976.

In a united action of support, members of the following Romulus organizations have urged their fellow Romulus citizens to support the school millage renewal, stating renewal of this millage will insure continuation of the present educational program:

Applicants sought

Help Center volunteers are accepting applications from job seekers for publishing the first list of applicants by March 15.

At a volunteers meeting held Sunday at the center, located at 35085 Goddard Rd., it was decided lists would be mailed to all businesses located in the Romulus area describing skills, ages and other information about those looking for employment.

Volunteers will accept applications daily between noon and midnight.

Pleasant Elementary PTA, Romulus Elementary PTA, Romulus Parent-Teacher-Student Association, Romulus Head Start Committee and the American Federal of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local No. 64.

Jaycees make all-out effort to promote millage vote

In an effort to help the residents of Romulus and the Romulus Community School District aver a "possible crisis," the Romulus Jaycees turned out in strong number last Saturday morning to distribute posters to local merchants and homeowners promoting passage of the school millage renewal scheduled for March 13.

The posters, which were furnished by the PTA Area Council, are intended as reminders to all registered voters that renewal of the 10-mill levy is "vital" to sustaining the present educational program.

Consumer bill passes Senate

The Michigan Senate passed a bill last week which would allow a consumer to raise any valid defense on a retail installment sales contract, even if the contract is sold to a financial institution.

As it is now under the Retail Installment Sales Act, a consumer has only 15 days after his contract has been sold in which to raise his defenses against the new holder. If the product is defective or if it is never delivered, the consumer must pay.

The current law enables fly-by-night operators to sell merchandise on installment contracts, quickly sell those contracts to a financial institution (known as the holder-in-due-course), get their money and skip town, leaving the consumer with only his payments.

The vice chairman of the Michigan Consumers Council, Mrs. Agnes Bryant, says that eliminating the holder-in-due-course doctrine would prohibit financial institutions from collecting on such contracts when the consumer raises valid defenses.

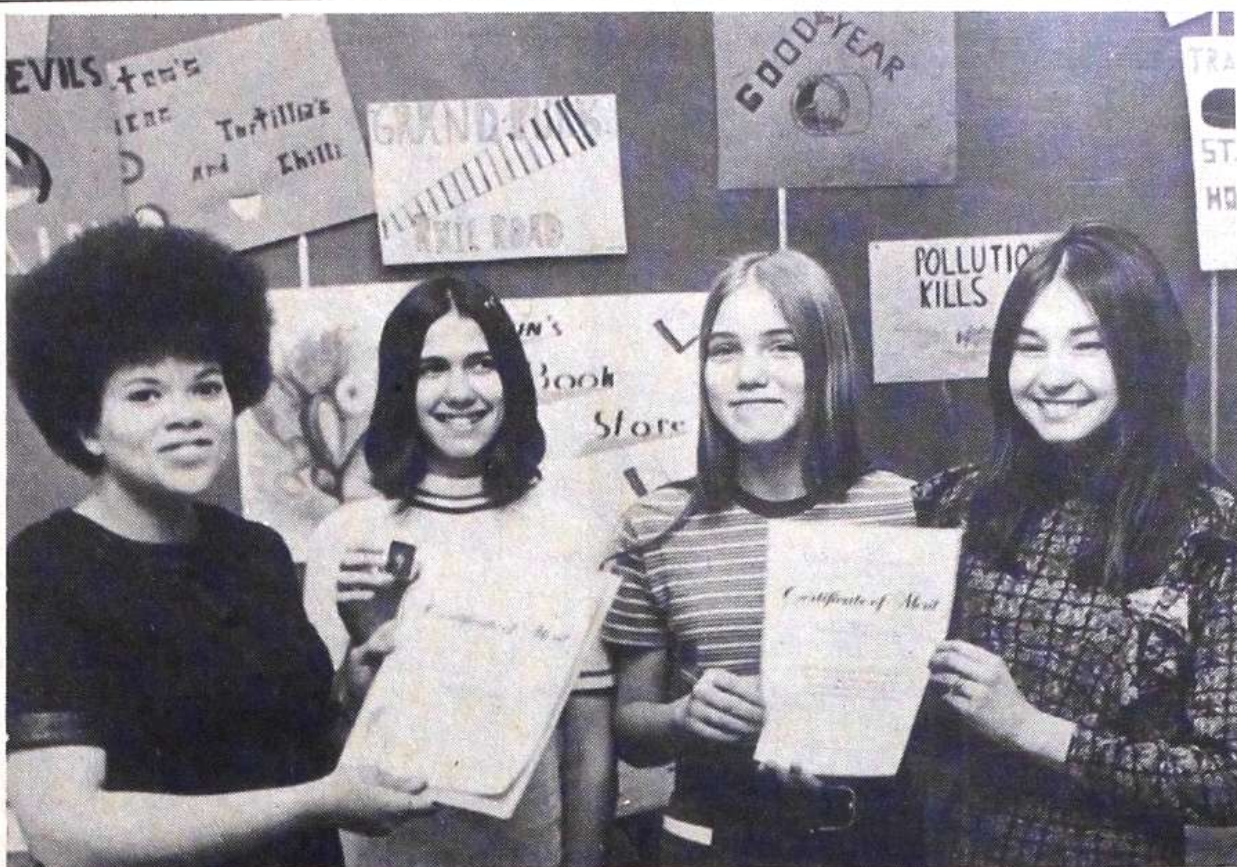

Senate Bill 559, which would eliminate the holder-in-due-course doctrine for retail installment sales contracts, is supported by the Michigan Consumers Council and the Michigan Bankers Association. It has been referred to the House Committee on Consumers and Agriculture.

Scouts donate equipment

The Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 620 from the Hayti Elementary School area held a skating party last Thursday to raise funds for a piece of recreational equipment for the Romulus Help Center.

Mrs. Ruth Samuels, troop leader, reported that more than 172 persons attended the event, held at the Mayflower Roller Rink on Middlebelt Road.

The $43 profit earned by the party will be used to buy recreational equipment for the Help Center, located on Goddard Road in Romulus.

ART AWARDS - Two students attending the Romulus Junior High School have been awarded honors in the recent Scholastic Art Awards exhibit held under the sponsorship of Crowley-Milner Department Store and a Detroit newspaper. The students and their art teachers are (from left) Mrs. Linda Jones, eighth grade art teacher, Linda Hanner, eighth grade art student, Beth Ballantyne, seventh grade art student, and Mrs. Cynthia Ford, seventh grade art teacher. Linda won a certificate of merit for her pastel painting of still life, and Beth won a certificate of merit for her pencil drawing of a human figure.

For Huron teachers, administrators

Drug program slated

The Huron School District's Board of Education has approved a three half-day teacher in-service training program on drug abuse prevention.

The program, tentatively set for March 15-17, will involve all K-12 teachers, administrators and 50 students from the high school and junior high school.

The mayor goal of the training is to illustrate to the teachers the facts on drug abuse and to provide them with new techniques on how to encourage students to make intelligent decisions regarding the use of drugs and to instill in the students the desire to accept responsibility for their own health and behavior.

The program is based upon the realization that people take drugs because they feel that taking drugs is the solution to another problem they are having. People who are healthy, active, creative and expressive will not take substances into their bodies that would jeopardize their state of well being - only the frustrated, the unfulfilled, the self-destructive can risk ingesting drugs in an attempt to obtain relief from pain and boredom.

The program begins at noon with Dr. Leonard Demak, director of DARTE (Drug Abuse Reduction Through Education) presenting the role of the school in drug abuse. After his presentation and comments, Eugene Dembecki, director of Lafayette Clinic, will present the pharmacology of drugs.

The program for the following day begins with Dr. Ed Leibson, drug program coordinator for Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Board, will present the referral agencies that are available to Huron School District and Wayne County residents.

Following this presentation and questions, the In-service Committee will direct a session of group interaction which will address itself to the improvement of communication between individuals.

The third afternoon meeting will be designed to present to the teachers new strategies for the teaching of decision-making and problem solving.

This in-service program is designed to be the first step in what must be a school, a local government, a community attack on drug abuse.

If you are interested in helping to stop the problem of drug abuse, please call Roger Brenner at 782-3357, or Byron Ant-cliff at 753-4421. They know the areas that need your help.

Two students win art awards

Two Romulus Junior High School students have been awarded honors in the recent Scholastic Art Awards exhibit, announced Mrs. Linda Jones, art teacher. The show was sponsored by Crowley's and a Detroit newspaper.

Linda Hanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanner of McBride Street, earned a gold key and certificate of merit for her pastel painting of a still life arrangement.

Beth Ballantyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ballantyne of Burton Street, won a certificate of merit for her pencil drawing of a human figure.

More than 4,000 students in grades seven through 12 in the seven-county metropolitan area participated in the competition. Entries were divided into 16 categories, including watercolors, ink drawings, sculpture and pottery. There were 244 gold keys and 485 certificates of merit awarded this year.

Mrs. Jones, eighth grade teacher, and Mrs. Cynthia Smith, seventh grade teacher, entered 29 pieces for competition. The entries were part of regular class work.

McNealy quits Sumpter post

Sgt. Cox, who was demoted by the township board to patrolman with a drop in salary of $400 on Nov. 24, was suspended in January by McNealy for alleged conduct unbecoming a police officer.

His case will be heard by a trial board tomorrow (Thursday) at the township hall. Members of the township board are serving as the trial board.

McNealy said he was not bitter after his three months as Sumpter's police chief.

"I am sad and disappointed that the principles outlined in our U.S. Constitution and the words of Christ said over 2,000 years ago still haven't reached Sumpter. It is a disappointment to me that Supervisor Parraghi kept hammering that I was an outsider. Well, how about Rep. Edward E. Mahalak and U.S. Senator Hart and Griffin?" McNealy asked.

"I felt that my effectiveness was gone because of the atmosphere in the township. I gave it a lot of soul searching. I felt it was time to leave.

"As far as I am concerned, I am through with Sumpter. The havoc and the abuse my person and my family was subjected to, I didn't think was worth it. I wouldn't believe that in 1972 a community would be like Sumpter.

"What really provoked me and hastened my decision was when one of my officers walked into the office wearing a confederate hat," McNealy added.

Community center would be big asset

A community center for the Belleville area?

This question has been uppermost in the minds of some Belleville-Van Buren residents for quite some time, according to reports.

This long-standing inquiry is still unanswered for an apparent lack of aggressive initiative on the part of leading citizens and government administration.

City and township youth has been complaining about the lack of recreational facilities that a community center could provide. Parents have stated that the community is badly in need of such a facility.

Currently both the City of Belleville and the Township of Van Buren lack a recreational center for use of their senior citizens as well as their youth.

The construction of a community center, to be a successful venture, would probably require the united financial backing of both the city and township.

The sponsorship of a proposed community center by the local chamber or local service organizations such as the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs would be a big assist in the project's successful accomplishment.

We think the idea of a community center, so vital to a growing community, is an excellent one. It would definitely be a big asset in the lives of residents, both young and old.

Girl Scouts mark 60th year

Girl Scout Week, to be commemorated March 12-18, will mark the 60th anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

The purpose of the Girl Scouts' organization remains unchanged from the day it was founded by Juliette Gordon Low in 1912. The group seeks to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service so that they may become happy and resourceful citizens.

Membership is open to all girls from 7 through 17 years of age who accept the Girl Scouts Promise and Laws.

Total membership is now nearly four million persons. This includes 3,250,000 girls and 670,000 adults. Since 1912, there have been almost 32 million members — 25 million girls and 7 million adults.

Another opinion

Busing has become 'unignorable' issue

The U.S. Senate, with most of the liberal wing on hand, has reversed the legislative amendment banning enforced school busing which passed last month by three votes.

Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield wired absentee senators some of who are seeking the Democratic presidential nomination and have been absent from Washington for weeks, ordering them back to Washington Tuesday.

While Senator Robert P. Griffin (R-Michigan), who engineered the amendment to the education bill through the Senate, defends it as constitutional, it does not have the authority of a constitutional amendment. That, however, has to be approved by two-thirds of the Senate and three-quarters (38) of the states.

While the language of the Supreme Court says "we can only examine its (the legislature's) power...and the power to make exceptions to the appellate jurisdiction of this court is given by express words." Still, the high court retains the power to review the Griffin legislation.

But, irrespective of what happens to the amendment, powerful forces are being arrayed against the busing issue on the Presidential campaign trail as well as in Congress, much to the disgust of many liberal candidates for the presidency, both in the south and the north.

Mrs. Irene McCabe, the fiery Pontiac anti-busing leader, was not out of line when she told an anti-busing strategy meeting in Pontiac Saturday that "we will not be mollified by what is going on in Washington. God gave us this election year.

Seldom has a national campaign issue snowballed so quickly as the anti-busing movement.

What has given it impetus in Michigan is busing orders from two Federal judges in Pontiac and Grand Rapids, plus the decision of Judge Stephen J. Roth last September that Detroit schools are segregated by "action and inaction" and that the situation must be remedied, possibly by mass inter-district busing.

The issue didn't attain national momentum when it was confined mainly to the south, but the northern momentum has catapulted it into national participation and concern.

This has developed quickly in the last six months.

In this section of the state it has been a catalyst which has forced many legislators and state officials to change previously expressed positions, not the least of which is Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, who, with Governor Milliken, appealed Judge Roth's decision on segregation to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Stymied there, Kelley now says he will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

We predict that in the eight months remaining before the Nov. 7 general election, the pressure against forced busing will intensify to the point where it will be an issue which no aspirant for the presidential nomination can ignore.

A most interesting debate is in prospect.

Lansing report

Legislator frustrated by inaction

BY DON HOENSHELL, Daily Eagle Lansing Bureau

Rep. Joseph P. Swallow (R-Alpena) is leaning toward a decision to quit politics after eight years in Lansing as the voice of a six-county district in northeastern Michigan.

His campaign for a one-house legislature is sagging and the frustrations of the present system have brought disenchantment.

"You could make the sacrifice if you could see things happening," he said. "They don't happen and you feel very frustrated by the inability to make progress."

"Things most often happen when special interests want them to happen. Some of the guys must feel like mouthpieces for special interests. If they're happy doing it, fine, but I'm not."

Swallow came to Lansing after two years as Alpena County prosecutor following his first election to the House in 1964, succeeding former Rep. James P. Mielock (R-Whittemore).

He stood in the traces for his Republican caucus during the early years, then started working up through the ranks during the years of Republican majorities in the chamber.

Now he sees the system's levers being manipulated by special interests and by the power of House Speaker William A. Ryan (D-Detroit) and, for a Republican, Swallow feels the wheels are spinning.

Swallow last year started his campaign for the one-house legislature on the theory that if it is impossible to change people, then the system must be altered if the frustration is to end.

He went to Nebraska to investigate the performance of the nation's only one-house state. There he found unanimous testimony supporting the process and forecasting its adaptability to Michigan.

"It was a way to make the legislature not only more effective as far as passing legislation but more open and responsible to the public," Swallow said.

The petition circulating campaign undertaken by the Michigan Jaycees needed help, so Swallow went to the campuses with his tight little corps of six unicameral enthusiasts from the House. se.

At the moment he's trying to head off a lethal amendment to the presidential primary bill, tucked on in the Senate by Senator Robert W. Davis (R-Gaylord).

Davis' rider would ban the circulation of petitions at polling places during elections not concerned with the issue, a process approved earlier by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

"It's the kiss of death," he said. Ryan argued for the Davis amendment, he said, because petition campaigns would lose their value if they became too easy to conduct.

The Davis amendment stayed in the bill in the House vote. Swallow's move to take it cut got 25 votes to 71 against, a devastating blow to his one-house petition campaign.

If the campaign fails, Swallow has a hatful of ideas for trying to reform the present system though similar efforts have risen only to fall regularly over the years.

"I'm convinced that the general majority of the special interest groups— they don't want change," he said. "They'll give you lip service, period."

PTA president urges approval of millage

To the editor:

On March 13 we, the voters of Romulus, will decide what kind of an education we want for our children.

We must decide if our children's education is worth continuing 10-mills of school levy. We must decide if these 10-mills—which represent one-fourth of our school budget — are more important to us or our children.

The Romulus Council of PTA's, with a membership of 800, unanimously endorsed the millage continuation... believing that the children of Romulus cannot do with less educational opportunity.

The voters are not being asked for more. The 800 members of the Area Council of PTA's have agreed that the least they can do is continue.

Your "yes" vote counts. Renewal... why not?

Anti-sex education viewpoints expressed

To the editor:

I would like to list a report from Dr. William McGrath, M.D. (psychiatrist from Phoenix, Ariz.) on the dangers of forcing sex education on the elementary school child.

"There is a phase of personality development called the latency period during which the healthy child is not interested in sex. This interval from about the age of five until adolescence serves a very important biological purpose.

"It affords a child an opportunity to develop his resources, his beginning physical strength and mental strength. Premature interest in sex is unnatural and will arrest or distort the personality development.

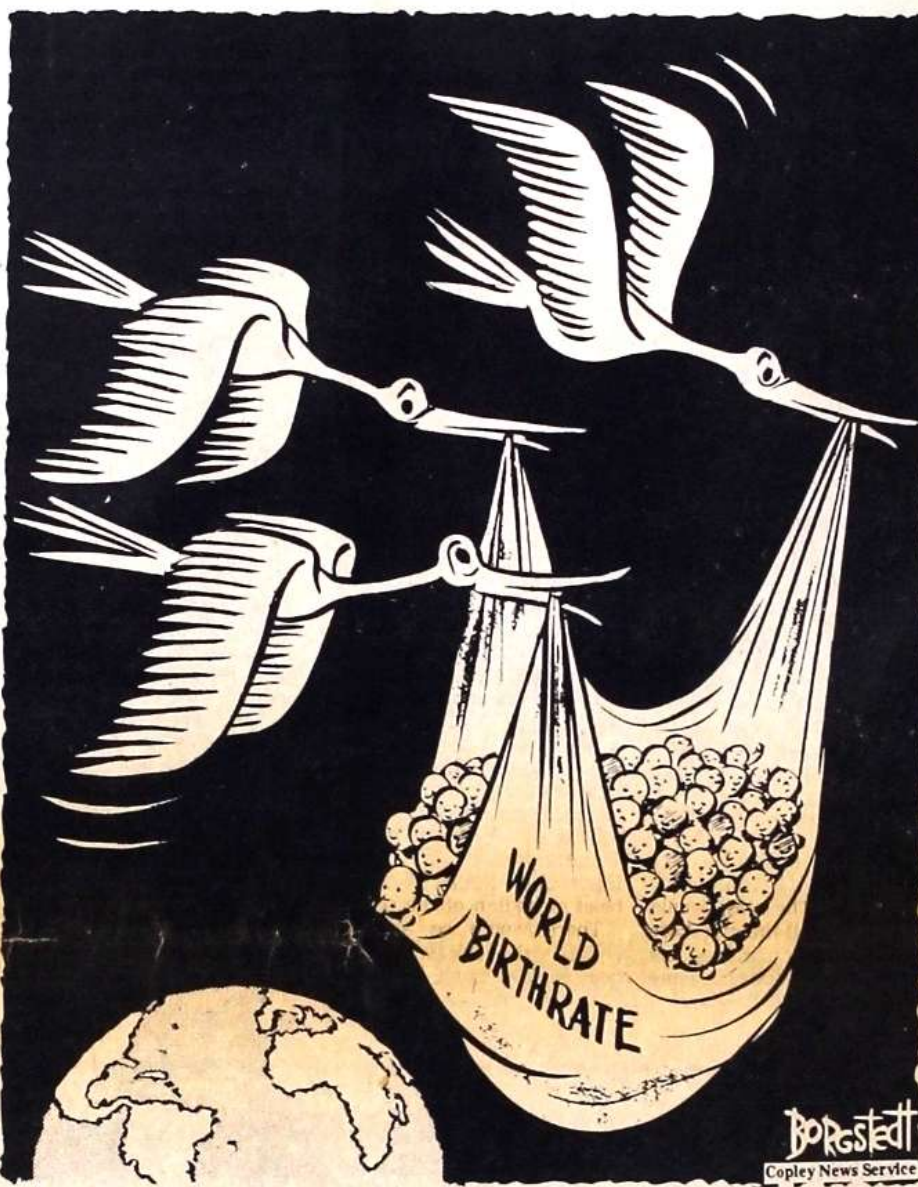

"Sex education should not be foisted on children. It should not begin in grade schools. Anyone who would deliberately arouse the child's curiosity or stimulate his unready mind to troubled sexual preoccupations ought to have a millstone tied around his neck and be cast into the sea."

"Twenty-five years ago, I and many other child analysts might have enthusiastically endorsed school sex education because we believed at that time that emphasis on sexual knowledge could do no harm, only good.

"We have since learned that it is harmful to force sexual preoccupation on the children of the elementary school grades, forcing of sexual preoccupation on the elementary school child is very likely to result in sexual difficulties in adulthood and can lead to disturbed behavior in childhood."

Reapportionment becomes big headache

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

Reapportionment is causing problems right down the line. The legislature is having difficulty in reapportioning Michigan's congressional districts.

The Legislative Apportionment Commission has given up in trying to redistrict the State House and Senate, and in many parts of the state, county apportionment commissions are running into trouble redistricting county boards of commissioners.

Yet all of these things must be done, and done in time to prepare for this year's elections.

The U.S. Supreme Court some years ago ordered that each of these legislative bodies must be elected on a one-man, one-vote basis so that every congressman, legislator and county commissioner represent as close as possible the same number of persons as each of his colleagues.

The federal census is the yardstick so that the congressional, legislative and county commission districts are being redrawn to fit into changes in population shown by the 1970 census.

The Legislative Apportionment Commission, composed of equal numbers of democrats and republicans, finally gave up after months of work and turned to the State Supreme Court. The court will consider reapportionment plans prepared by various members of the commission and select the one it feels best meets the U.S. Supreme Court guidelines.

The state court set Feb. 18 as its deadline for the submission of proposed plans for the legislative districts. Several are now before the court.

In every vote on proposals, the eight-member apportionment commission deadlocked 4 to 4.

Under the Supreme Court's schedule for consideration of legislative reapportionment, the commission members must make objections and petition for oral arguments on the submitted plans by a certain date. The arguments will be heard by the court on March 6.

Meanwhile, the legislature is having trouble working out a congressional district reapportionment plan that would be acceptable to both the Democratic-controlled house and the Republican-controlled senate.

One of the two houses will have to advance a plan very shortly to keep the question in the legislature. Republicans and Democrats who had petitioned a federal district court to take over the redrawing of congressional seats had agreed to give the legislature until Feb. 29 to act.

The redistricting proposal has been stalled on the House floor since coming out of the elections committee Dec. 15. Another plan has come out of committee in the Senate. It is believed the court will give the legislature more time if one chamber has passed a plan by the end of the month.

Since the Senate is evenly split between the two parties, the most likely place to pass an initial reapportionment plan is the House, where the Democrats hold a 56-53 majority. The matter is complicated. Quite naturally, each party wants a plan that will give it the best chance at electing congressmen.

Compromise plans are not being considered at this time. If the House does pass a reapportionment proposal, it would be subject to negotiations with the Republican-controlled Senate. Also, if the House does approve a plan, it would probably get closer attention by the federal court, since it did win at least one chamber's approval.

Disputes on county levels have centered not so much on the new district lines drawn by the county apportionment commissions as on the fact that in most counties, apportionment commissions can either reduce or increase the number of seats on the boards of commissioners, within limits set by the legislature. This is being done in many counties of the state.

In cases where the number of seats has been reduced, there have been attacks from the incumbent board of commissioners members.

Blue, Gold banquet held by Cub Pack 1071

Cub Scout Pack 1071, sponsored by the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The banquet guests were Rev. and Mrs. Charles Dibley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shepherd, institutional representatives, and son Brian; George Haft, district scout commissioner; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bird, community scout commissioner; and Mr. and Mrs. James Pollard and family, scout committee chairman.

Three college students from Eastern Michigan University from the "Theater of the Young at Heart" presented the evening's entertainment. They held the interest of the audience as they performed a make believe story of a young girl who wanted to go to another land in her uncle's make believe machine.

The following awards were presented before the entertainment started:

Den 10 — Ricky Sikes, one-year service star; Andy Dodge, silver arrow; Leslie Ferguson, gold arrow.

Webelo awards were: Larry Smrcka, Bobcat pin; Randy Hubler, silver arrow; Randy Sikes, citizen's and athletic awards.

In charge of the menu for the banquet held on Feb. 28 was Mrs. Diane Ferguson and the decorations were made by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smrcka.

CERAMICS FOR FAIR — Hayti Elementary School in Romulus will hold a school fair on May 6 from noon to 5 p.m. School mothers have been busy preparing exhibits and sale items for the fair. These women are making ceramics to be sold at the event. They are (seated, from left) Kay

Brown, Bernice Coste, ceramics teacher, and Carol Filkins, fair chairman, (back row, from left) Margaret Maitland, Pat Syksi, Betty Lewis and Shirley Coste. Everything was molded, baked and painted by the group. Proceeds from the fair will go to the school's dental program and other special causes.

Tiger Print strives for better understanding

By DAWN PYSNIK
Editor, TNT
Belleville High School Paper

Twenty-five students, hours of persistent work and one common goal are what make up the bi-monthly issues of the Tiger Print, Belleville High School's newspaper.

The Tiger Print, whose primary purpose is to inform students and make them aware of their surroundings, also feels a need to acquaint students with one another through the use of the printed page.

Students, by way of a publication, are allowed to publicize their feelings and give a critical opinion of their school and its functions.

Along with writing articles and setting up the newspaper, the staff of the Tiger Print also sponsors other school activities. Currently the staff is sponsoring a traffic safety program which includes guest speakers and a special publication of the Tiger Print devoted entirely to traffic safety.

Among the other activities,

Tiger Print has sponsored a "Down with Dope" slogan contest to try to achieve student involvement in an attempt to curb the wide usage of drugs.

The school newspaper annually produces Last Daze, a student publication which deals exclusively with the senior class, featuring Last Will and Testament to the faculty and under-classesmen along with the senior superlatives.

Many seniors on the staff are at work tallying votes to find out just who the senior superlatives really are. Although the entire senior class is involved in choosing our superlatives, the staff feels the Last Daze has a special meaning to them because it is a special work done exclusively by the staff for the senior class.

As a different feature, the Tiger Print decided to "sweeten" things a little with its candy sale, awarding a giant stuffed dog to the staff member who sold the most candy.

The Tiger Print also was involved in another school-wide event, the Mardi Gras held on Feb. 26, in which they sponsored a coffee-house complete with entertainment, pizza and beverages.

The self-supported Tiger Print uses advertisements from local merchants and sales throughout students to operate. By advertisements, students also are allowed to become familiar with the merchant's products.

The paper is very lucky to have a good advertising department concerned with the opinions of its clients. Its artist has many interesting ideas for the ads that are carried out well and often help to sell new ads when the prospective customers see the product.

The entire staff is a very hard-working body, students willing to share their talents and opinions with others. They have worked together in hopes of bringing the school one of the best and most informative publications written for this school.

The Tiger Print strives to promote a better understanding between the students and the community as a whole. The staff would like to thank all the members of the community who support them and they hope to become a further bond in the coming future.

Merriman School Cubs hold annual banquet

Cub Scout Pack 739 celebrated the 62nd birthday of the Cub Scouts Monday, Feb. 28 with their Blue and Gold Banquet.

Special guests for the evening were Merriman School Principal, Eugene Barr; school secretary, Mrs. Jane Scott and her family; Scoutmaster and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall; Assistant Scoutmaster and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Swiney; Merriman PTA President, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bales and family.

Cubmaster Richard Luh started the evening's festivities with the opening prayer. A token of appreciation was presented to Barr and Paul Govensky, head custodian of the school. There would be a raffle ending with the drawing at the next pack meeting. The prize is a large teddy bear.

Awards went to the following boys: Billy Mancine and Donald Allen received the one year service star, Charles Atkinson, gold arrow, three silver arrows and dinner badge.

Dinner badges went to Mark Sullivan, David Helmut, Mike Selbman, Kurt Gilstorf and Charles Cribbs.

Assistant dinner badges went to Kevin Webb, Tommy Elliott, John Palmer, Joey Schambers, Tom Bradley and Eddie Zabik.

Billy Cahill, got a recruiter badge, Phillip McDermid, service star and assistant dinner; Keith Prill, gold arrow; Bernie Nielson, gold arrow and dinner; David Merciers and Jeff Bassett, arrow of light and both were promoted to Boy Scouts. David Tucker and Tony Poma also advanced into Boy Scouts. Artis Pitts received a wolf and gold arrow, Robert Knight, bear, gold and silver arrows; Glen McFadden, bear badge; Mike Budnik, two-year service star, John McKenzie, Eddie Miller, Larry Bohl and Lynn Wilder are new bobcats. John Percy was announced as a new Webelo leader.

The entertainment for the evening was a demonstration of Korean Karate. The cub scouts were shown how they can defend themselves against muggers and purse snatchers. Also board breaking with hands and feet was demonstrated. The Karate demonstration was performed by Mark Buckley, 10; Burt Smith, 10; Julie Angellotti, 14; and the groups instructor, Norm Nowack, 17.

This group came from Russ Hanke's Karate Club in Southgate. Nowack holds the blue belt, the equivalent to the black belt of China.

Approximately 340 people attended the potluck dinner and program.

Chamber makes maps available

A new 1972 official state highway road map are available at the offices of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, located at 36513 Goddard Rd., Romulus. The maps are free, compliments of the chamber.

Present chamber members are urged to pick up the 1972 tags for their membership plaques that are now available at the office. Dolores Ristow, chamber director, announced.

Chamber director Dolores Ristow reports that the chamber is presently looking for men that are qualified and able to handle a part-time position dealing with business people in an executive capacity.

The installed 24-hour answering service in the chamber's office has assisted in alleviating the many problems and questions that arise.

Romulus to buy van, nine buses

The Romulus Community School District's Board of Education has authorized the purchase of nine new 66-passenger buses and one 20-passenger van bus.

The school board's authorization was issued following the receipt of recommendations from the school district's director of maintenance and operations, Thomas M. Janack, on recent bus and chassis bids received by the school district.

The bid for the new school bus bodies was awarded to the Great Lakes Coach of Dearborn for a total sum of $48,150, and the bus chassis bid was awarded to Ray Whitfield Ford Inc. of Taylor for a total sum of $46,008.

Ed Carpenter Sales of Wayne was awarded the bid on the van bus for the sum of $5,689.85.

Your imagination is the limit at Old Town Floor Covering! You know, you can Carpet your Boat... your Wall... your Walk (a real Red Carpet treatment!)... and, would you believe: YOUR LAWN! Y-E-S! Even "Turflon" is available here! Jay & Deloris Newell, with a 15 year background in making peoples' "Fancies" into reality... have stocked everything including Vinyl that you'll sweat is Wood, Slate, Marble... Brick... even Leopard Skin, in addition to everything in the world... of Carpeting! Put a Family Crest in the center of your Living Room Carpet! See a carpet you can raise a dozen Kids on! YOU name it! If Old Town can't produce it... you wouldn't want it in your Home!

TOO, IF YOUR HOME is where your heart is... our good Friends at the NATIONAL UNCLAIMED FURNITURE SHOWROOMS 2985 Ford Rd., in Garden City (others at 126 E. 14 Mile, one mile W. of the Oakland Mall... 1530 Pinegrove, Port Huron... 31795 Groesbeck (M-97) bet. 13 & 14 Mi. Rds.) can also show you how to do some VERY nice things for your Family's comfort... and to enhance your surroundings... all at very little Cost, which is the BIG word with Furniture Shoppers, always. A Bedroom Suite, for instance... means Luxurious comfort, correct support, spacious Dressers, quality Mirrors roomy Night Stands, perhaps a comfortable Rocker for your special "quiet corner"... or an impressive Chaise Lounge, even important Accents, such as Lamps & Pictures! Can you imagine having ALL of this... for less than you expected... and having great Names in fine Furniture, also? You can! The Garden City Store is open from 10 a.m. - 9 p.m., Mon. thru Sat.; Noon til 6 p.m. Sunday. Use BankAmericard; MasterCard. Other terms are available. You'll always be happy you shopped there. People tell us so, constantly!

HEY, FELLAS! (Now keep this under your hat...), take a lesson from those tiny birds you're beginning to hear of a morning... and look as good... BETTER than... the Female of the species! A snowballing Clientele is looking greater daily, in the handsome new Mens' Wigs now moving almost as fast as they come in, at CARL'S CORNER, northwest corner of Plymouth & Telegraph, in Redford! Change your Hairstyle... Color... Mood... WHY NOT?? Seems the Gents are building Wig Wardrobes to beat Milady's! Look, you can part 'em... there are some you can swim in... they're Custom Fitted & Styled on the spot... and we saw one Gal there, armed with a Polaroid Camera (True!), taking a "before" and "AFTER" pic!! One look told the Boyfriend on a "His" Wig, by Jerome Alexander... who designs the things Women love to see. Nothing far out about taking years off your appearance, right? It'll make you feel years younger to meet Gwen Dempsey, too. She's your personal assistant. Ah, g'wan! (They're open Sundays, 12-6.)

OF COURSE, YOU DON'T have to go right n-o-w, okay? Just where is it written that you don't stop for a MALT DUCK before you change your lifestyle? You might be Furniture Shopping... carpeting your pad... or your head... or NOT feeling ambitious at all! Whatever... it's time to put up the foot and enjoy a Malt Duck! This pause refreshes... in Grape and Apple flavors, yet! Makes you wanna live... "Wig it up"... fly a kite... doze off and wake up happy, and ready for another! There is that certain air about "doing your own thing"... that only a relaxed approach can accomplish. Now THAT's what MALT DUCK is all about! More than a month of "Recipe Contest" brought us a stack of wild (but great tasting!) ideas... and 9 out of 10 Chefs who wrote said, "Don't forget to mention it's great all by itself!" So 'tis... and DANNA DISTRIBUTORS puts it on the shelves wherever you're reading this paper... just down the way in your favorite Party or Package Store, and... last time I looked... downstairs, under by Bar! Join us??

Romulus senior selected to play in U. S. Band

Miss Sheila Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wilson of 11901 Hunt St., Romulus, has been accepted for membership in the U.S. Collegiate Wind Band.

The U.S. Collegiate Wind Band is a select musical organization that will make a concert tour of seven of the world's important cultural capitals next July and August.

Sheila plays the flute and piccolo in the Romulus Senior High School band.

The invitation for membership in the U.S. Collegiate Wind Band was received from Prof. Al G. Wright, director of bands at Purdue University (Lafayette, Ind.) and conductor of the U.S.C.W.B. Membership is limited to a minimum of 60 and a maximum of 85 college wind players and mature senior high school band students.

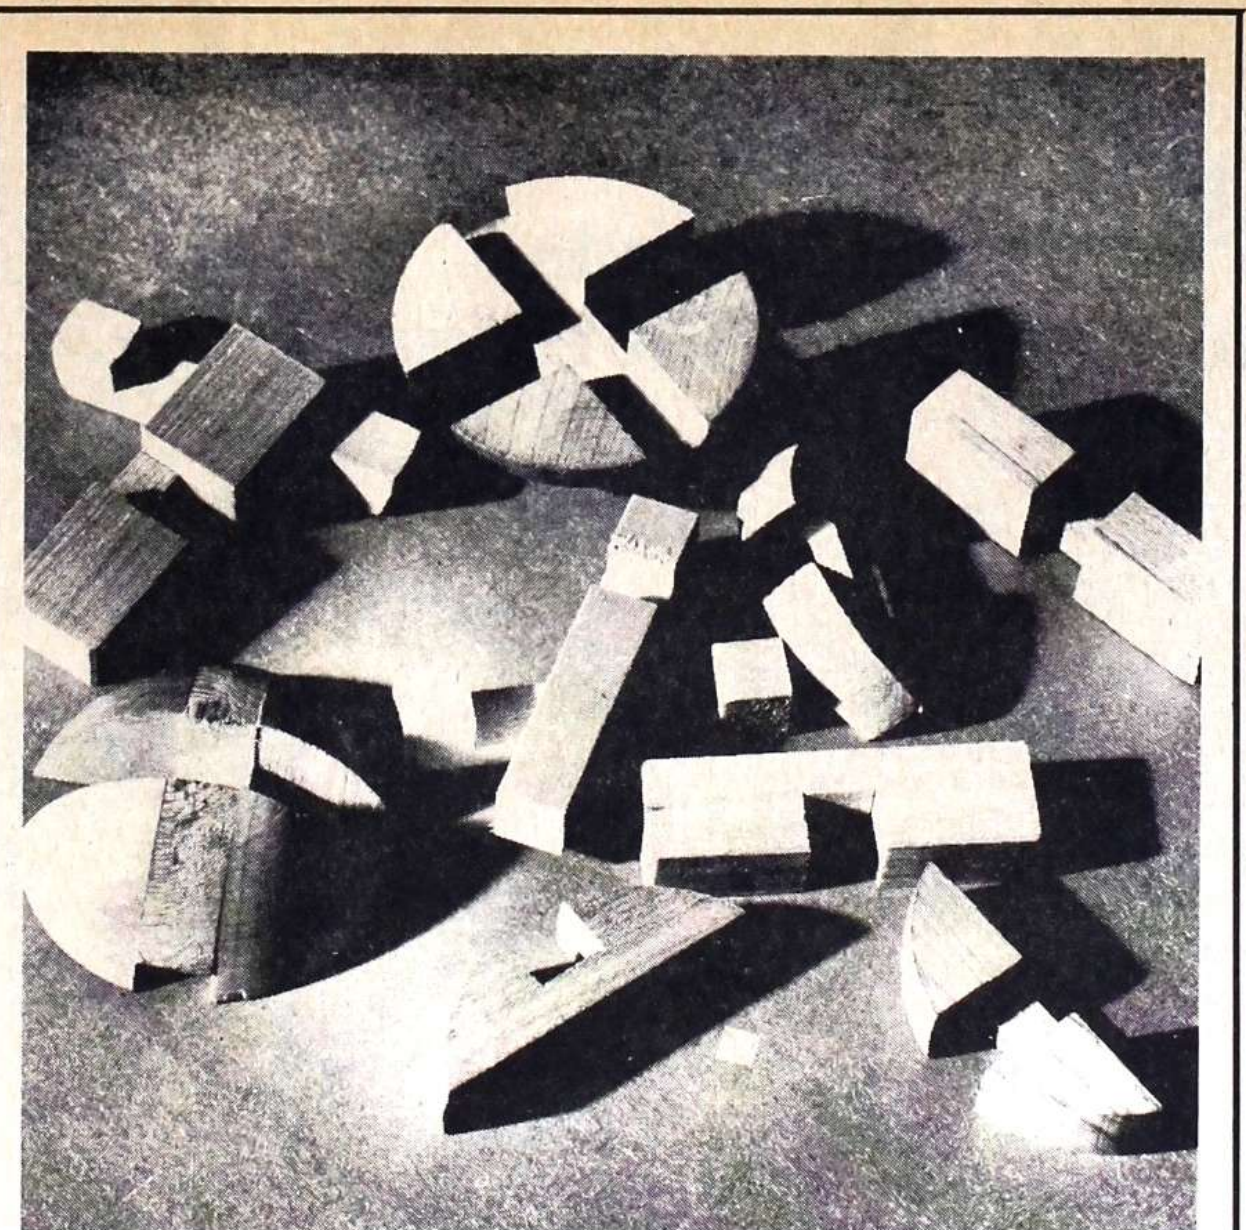

Sheila Wilson

The U.S. Collegiate wind Band will travel for three weeks (July 28- Aug. 18) in England, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Denmark, Luxembourg and Russia. Concerts will be performed in London, Copenhagen, Antwerp, Paris, Lucern, Zurich and Moscow.

This group will assemble in New York City for departure on July 28. Rehearsals, prior to the first concert, will be held in Antwerp. The associate conductor, Gladys Stone Wright, is president of the Women Band Directors National Association.

The United States Collegiate Wind Band will be the only band performing and touring in Russia in the summer of 1972. Previous tours in Russia have been made by the University of Michigan Band and the University of Minnesota Band.

'Child's Play' opens tomorrow in Detroit

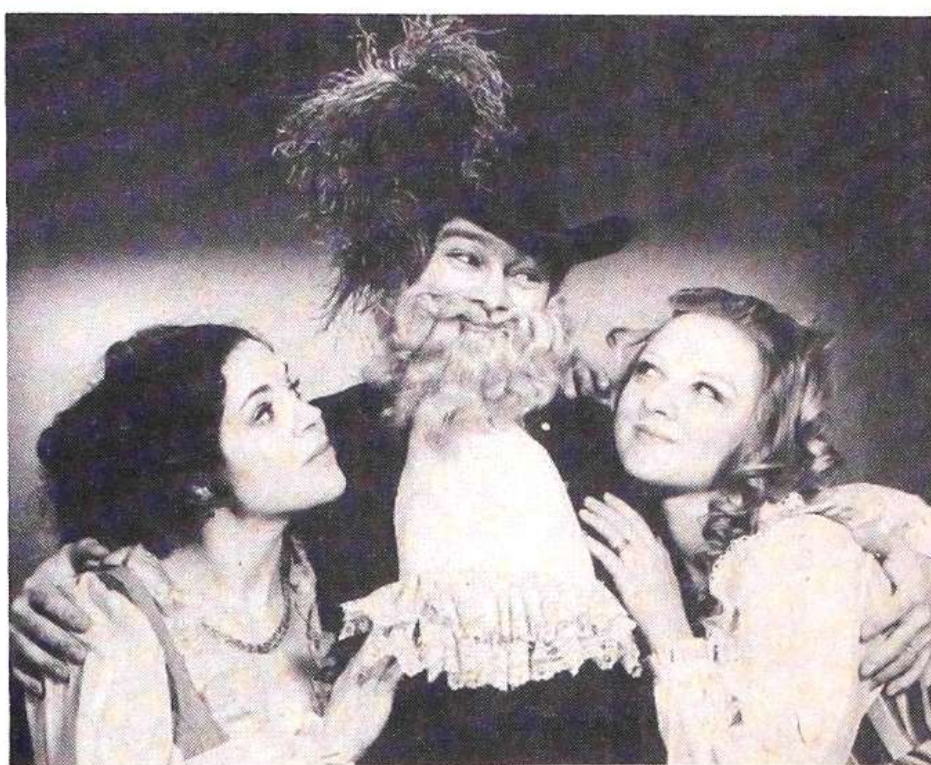

Thursday will mark the Detroit area premiere of "Child's Play," the Tony award-winning Broadway hit, by Robert Marasco. Presented by the Performing Arts Centre (University of Detroit - Marygrove College), "Child's Play" is the second production in the new facility, The Theatre, on the Marygrove College campus, West McNichols Road at Wyoming. "Child's Play," a psychological thriller, is a dramatic insight into the lives of the faculty and students of a Jesuit boys boarding school. It stars Shepperd Strudwick and features David Regal, guest artists in residence, who were recently seen as Prospero and Caliban in the season's first production, "The Tempest."

In "Child's Play," Strudwick will appear as Joe Dobbs, the aged, veteran teacher who is beloved by all his boys. Regal plays Jerome Malley, the younger language teacher, who is considered to be an exceedingly harsh disciplinarian. Clive Barnes, New York Times drama critic said of the play, "The most satisfying scary show in years." James Rodgers, chairman of the Performing Arts Center, will direct. The show runs Thursdays through Sundays, March 9-12, 16-19 and 23-26. Performances begin at 8:30 p.m. with Sunday performances at 7:30 p.m. Tickets at $3.75 are available at the Performing Arts Centre Box Office, U of D Memorial Building on Fairfield Avenue. Student and group rates are also available. Other cast members include Charles Noel, 29659 Birchwood, Inkster.

Masonic features piano duo

The "movie theme team," duo-pianists Ferrante and Teicher, pay a return visit to the Masonic Auditorium at 8:20 p.m. Saturday. The two pianists got a reputation for stylish recordings of movie themes with their first hit record, "The Apartment." They later recorded the theme from "Exodus," and other popular films. Ferrante and Teicher have made more than 10 Gold Albums, as well as several gold singles. Their complete recording list contains more than 30 albums. Tickets for the Saturday performance of Ferrante and Teicher are available at the Masonic Auditorium box office, Grinnell's downtown and all J.L. Hudson ticket centers.

MERRY WIVES — Shakespeare's popular comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," plays Falstaff, while Linda Boigon (left) and Elizabeth Shelle portray Mistress Page and Mistress Ford. The performances are at 8:30 p.m. March 10-11, 17-18 and 24-25 with a final matinee performance set for March 26 at 2:30 p.m.

Also in the cast are: Robert Beaupre, Lauren Floetke, Thomas Kjellberg of Garden City, Ruth Fauman, David Weiss, Gregory Piazza, Dale Franks, Kevin Flanagan, Bruce Bett, Tom DeGrave, Bill Kircher, Steve Raptis and Donna Kiss.

Shakespeare comedy to start at Bonstelle

"The Merry Wives of Windsor," one of Shakespeare's most popular comedies in the theatre, is being revived by Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre beginning Friday at 8:30 p.m. It continues Saturday, March 11, and Fridays and Saturdays, March 17-18 and 24-25 at 8:30, closing Sunday, March 26, at 2:30 matinee. This is the play, according to one story, that Queen Elizabeth commanded Shakespeare to write when she wanted to see more of his popular character Sir John Falstaff. It is said that she ordered him to write a play showing Falstaff in love. The result is a boisterous farce about a lecherous old braggart who becomes the victim of the two "merry wives" he is pursuing.

The production is directed by Robert T. Hazzard, with scenery designed by Russell Smith, costumes by Cassandra Ronning and lighting by Tom Bryant. Tickets at $2.50 evenings and $2 for the matinee are on sale at the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, Cass and Hancock, or through J.L. Hudson ticket offices. Door sale at the Bonstelle begins one hour before curtain. Reservations and information may be secured by calling the theatre box office at 577-2960.

Hamlet spoof opens at Windsor

"Very funny, very brilliant, very chilling" is how Clive Barnes of the New York Times describes the final production of the University of Windsor Players' 1971-72 Season "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" at the Essex Hall Theatre for two successive weekends March 9, 10, 11, 12 and 16, 17, 18, 19 at 8:30 p.m. This will be the major event of the theatrical season when the Players present the 1968 winner of both the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award and the Tony Award for the play that ran for more than a year on Broadway and has also been a hit in England and the European continent. Written by Tom Stoppard, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" is a funny, up-to-date paraphrase of "Hamlet." The author takes a modern look at Shakespearean tragedy through the eyes of two of its most insignificant characters, the two college chums of the hero summoned to distract and watch over him. Shakespeare didn't bother to draw this subordinate duo very clearly. The fact that he left them more or less blanks is the amusing point of Stoppard's play, which presents the pair as obscure fellows on the fringe of great events they don't understand, flipping coins and playing other idle games because they don't know why they're where they are, what they're supposed to do, or what's to become of them.

That by the author's spoofing implication, is the plight of all modern men.

Dearborn concert is Friday

The fourth concert of the Dearborn Symphony's 10th anniversary season will be held at 8:30 p.m. on Friday in East Dearborn's Fordson High School Auditorium. Nathan Gordon will conduct and the soloist will be violinist Mischa Mischaikoff.

Program will include Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5, Poeme by Chausson, Pavanne by Ravel and Capriccio by Saint Saens. Tickets are available at the door or: Little Professor Book Centers, West Dearborn or Dearborn Heights; Sally's Gift Shop, Westborn; and Bank of Dearborn, Village Plaza or Michigan at Schaefer. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Five area students to perform with choir

Five area students will participate in the upcoming "Encore III - Together," sponsored jointly by the Wayne State University Men's Glee Club and the WSU Chamber Singers. The concert is at 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18, in the Community Arts Auditorium on the WSU campus.

The groups, which traveled in Europe on a concert tour this past summer, will present a wide selection of sacred and secular music in the "Encore III" concert. They will feature works by Persichetti, Holst and Hindemith, in addition to a selection of spirituals. Jeannette Dagger, a Wayne State graduate who is currently pursuing a career in opera, will be the guest soloist. She is a lyric soprano and has studied at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, the Julliard School of Music, the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and the Goethe Institute in Munich. Area residents performing in the concert are Elizabeth Bentz, 6851 Burnly St., Susan Fox, 29617 Barton Ave., and Linda Munch, 6607 Golfview St., all of Garden City. Also, Pamela Smith, 29536 Julius Blvd., and David Whitlock, 7430 Mohawk St., both of Westland. Admission is $1 for students and $2 for adults. Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling 577-2618.

Supremes at Elmwood

Making one of their rare Detroit-area appearances, Motown's Supremes make a return visit to the Elmwood Casino for a one-week stand ending Saturday. First scoring on the national record charts in 1961 with "When the Lovelife Shines," The Supremes have subsequently won Gold Records for a long string of hits including "Where Did Our Love Go?" "Baby Love,"

"Stop In the Name of Love," "Back In My Arms Again," "I Hear Symphony," "You Can't Hurry Love," "Someday We'll Be Together" and "Stoned Love." Comprising the Supremes are Mary Wilson, Candy Birdsong and Jean Terrell. The trio was recently honored as "The Preferred Vocal Group of 1971" by Fisk University students.

Steals day's take

WHATTAWEEKEND!! Actually, I started it at my Dr's. And I DID TOO ask him about the "Water Cure," Margie! "Tell Margie" he sez, "that the 1st water cure was the flood...and it killed more than it cured." "But, Doc?" I pleaded, "I'm trying to get more outta life. I'm already good at singing and dancing and everything else! What should I do?" "A little less singing & dancing," sez the Sage. Hey, down laff! To me, an evening listening to PAT FLOWERS is everything else! I could be blindfolded and deserted on the Lansing Expressway...and find my way to where Pat's holding forth! I could follow the pretty Music...and The Man goes from Back to Rock with smooth skill...OR I could follow my nose...because Dick Benske Chers the kinda things that not only make his OWN brand of Music...but the kitchen sends out Flavor waves that lead you straight to Danish Valhalla...Heaven, Pat Flowers, a glass of Akavavit (try it in a Screwdriver!), and a couple of Afriker Lobster Tails no wonder I'd naturally come to THE DANISH INN, at 32305 Grand River, in Farmington! That's the real way to get more outta life, Doc!

AND THEN THERE'S MELANIE. Melanie, she's why I go to THE COLONIAL LOUNGE, at 1970 Farmington (just N. of 7 Mi. Rd.), in Livonia! A guy could give up a free trip to Vegas plus Green Stamps to have Melanie serve his daytimer. And then he could stay till 9 p.m. ish, when Entertainment from all across the land comes thisaway! Metro-Detroiters who make the Scene know RON COBB, who hails from these parts. Formerly with Juarez; Ronnie returns to this area from the Coast with "THE BRAND NEW BAND" and a trunkfula brand new standing ovations!! Mr. Bonze ("Bones"), head Bartender and Chief Wizard is mixing up a batch in Ron Cobb's honor...and it'll be the Special of the week! So count the specials, folks! It's the total that counts, right? There's Melanie...Bones...Ron Cobb...continuous Entertainment...The Brand New Band...NICK MALAMIS on the Horn if you please...and a passel of Musicians who happen inabout to add to the excitement! So whoa needs Green Stamps??

ONE OF THESE DAYS I'm gonna throw another kind of party...and the list of people who told me they're gonna dance there, had better start shining their shoes! It's going to be VERY important, so it's going to be in a special place. There will be deep carpets and glowing walls and a gleaming Dance Floor! There will be winking Chandeliers and Flowers and soft, soft Music. And we'll have rice. There will be exquisite American and Continental Cuisine. I KNOW how to do this kind of party...but I'm going to use the Party Consultants, just the same. Because when you choose VLADIMIR'S, at 28125 Grand River, in Farmington Township, you've made the decision that says you're going all the way! And if I wasn't a little scared of the way this sounds...I might just show up myself! Of course, you DON'T have to get Married. You can have a Business Meeting...or a Bowling Banquet...celebrate anything and everything in the world. Whatever you desire...Vladimir's Party Consultants have the ideal plan for it! Just call 477-8050 and ask 'em!

BUT BEFORE I DO all that...I'm going to the place where I always start and end important days. And I REALLY DO go to VICTOR'S, at 34410 Ford Rd., in Westland. And they're always there, 24 hours a day...every day in the world! And the food is ALWAYS great. And I've been there in evening dress...and found other people there the same way. And I've been there in casual clothes (casual-er than I should mention, since I was late to the office that day!)...and found people there the well, almost-same way. And VICTOR'S is always the same! Bright, cheerful, happy to serve you! And a young fella named Kevin Ford (who was tipped off by his very pretty Mom) was there the same time I was, last week! And he said, "Aren't YOU Cap Patric?" And I said, "That's the magic word, Son!" and got out my Wallet. Because when you're the 1st to spot me there...and especially when you insist all you want is the Kiddie Burger...catch me again sometimes, Kev!

OLE! THE ACAPULCO HATS on the wall tell me "The Boss" knows how to have fun...and how to see that everyone else does tooooo! And that's not the only new look about the place, because just when you think he's brought you the MOST...he finds something even better. He (Beau Bob) has this friend TONY who has not only a fabulous voice but another friend named ERIC who has built something even more dazzling than the silvery hats: Erik is an honest-to-gosh Electronic Genius, who has "created" an Organ that makes every sound in the world...from Boss to Sonic...and some that haven't even been heard YET by Astronauts and Moon Maidens! There's been a new look to the Dinner Menu...too...because greater Steaks keep being born in the Kitchen! So if you wanna know what's new...it's BEAU-J's, southeast corner of Inkster & Schoolcraft...and you oughta get there NOW before they start fallin' over each other on the way outta the Racetrack! Yeah...that place!

THEY'VE DONE IT AGAIN! The Wedding of two already great spots has produced one of the most beautiful offspring in the have-fun business! We must here herald the appearance of ANN ARBOR ROAD HOUSE (at 47660 Ann Arbor Rd., W. of Sheldon Rd., in Plymouth), as the brightest new Star on the entertainment horizon! The background in Wining, Dining and Entertaining the people which has made this an outstanding success of 2 other great Restaurants has been brought to the Ann Arbor Road House by the Ginoipolis-Capraros & Mr. Mike's Families, and the new place shows its breeding! We go to Capraros when Mike's is crowded, and vice versa...everyone does, but the ride out to the Road House along a winding, quiet countrylike drive is so removed from hustle and bustle that it has become our favorite of the three. (And we're always amazed to find ourselves there in just a few minutes!) The building itself is set on the upper side of a slope. Visiting it now you are able to see where it will build down to blend with the scenic background. The present atmosphere on the inside smacks much of that special "quiet little nook" you always go to (and hope not too many others will find) whenever you're in New York or Paris. Others DO find it, however, and Friday and Saturday nights now boast Standing Room Only, with ample reason...so you MUST catch ahead! It's a Thoroughbred not only by virtue of the "fun" things (since one of the Club Owners holds tight the "Bartender of the year" Award...while a couple others are vying for the "Sexiest haircut in Wayne County" finals, that the Waitresses talk about contests...must ALL be Miss America, etc.) but the r-e-a-l "stuff" that success is made of! It's the same intangible that packs CAPRAROS' over on Telegraph & Schoolcraft...and MR. MIKE'S, on the Ford Rd. - Wayne Rd. corner in Westland. It's the sum total of MUCH, much more than one need even know to enjoy it. And if I say you to enjoy...whether you're fucked away in a quiet booth whispering while an enchanting creature, LORI JACOBS by name, strums her guitar softly and sings like a Nightingale...or whether you're there for Capital F.O.O.D. be it the Mediterranean Salad lavish with Diced Feta and huge Kalamata Olives or a Prime Filet Mignon wrapped in Bacon, or a dry, elegant white Bordeaux, or Roadhouse Style Seafoods, or whether you're there from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Wednesday through Sunday to hear the beautiful sounds, or whether you're there at 4 P.M. Sunday with the whole Family for an unforgettable Dinner...the IMPORTANT thing is that You're There, and no other "First Time" has ever seemed quite so enjoyable! GO...see...listen...taste...enjoy...remember forever. This one wins the Cap Patric Orchid...because EVEN I used to have troubles (too)...Then I found the ANN ARBOR ROAD HOUSE.

like many restaurants we believe that our coffee is the best. FIRST we buy the number one blend made. All coffee companies make at least 5 blends. SECOND we make what is called a club coffee. That is 45 cups to the pound. Please note that many, many restaurants stretch theirs to 70 cups to the pound. We use pure cream, not half & half or imitation. We treat our coffee equipment with the utmost loving care. Believe us. Our coffee is very good. It is expensively made. Try us you'll love us.

Class reunion planned

By PEARL MORRIS
Phone WH 1-1187

A 20-year reunion for the Romulus High School Class of 1952 is being planned for June and the committee in charge is anxious to procure the names and addresses of class members. Members of the class of 1952 are asked to contact Mrs. Arlene Reddig McLeod (722-8338) as soon as possible with their own and other addresses. Watch this paper for further details as they develop.

Folks of the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist churches will be holding the second of a series of pot luck Lenten dinners this Thursday (March 9) at the New Boston church on Huron River Drive at 6:30 p.m. The Rev. James Hynes of the Dexter United Methodist Church will be the guest speaker. A nursery will be provided along with a program geared to various age levels.

Fifth grade students of the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School are currently selling individual candy bars and boxes of candy in an effort to earn money for a one-day airplane trip to Washington D.C. on May 6. The youngsters will be accompanied by the nation's capital by fifth grade teachers, Miss Mary Peterson, Miss Halversack, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Leonard.

The following persons are serving on the Pew Committee for the sanctuary of the new Calvary Baptist Church, on which is being built adjacent to the present church, on Olga Road: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tally and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kahl. Local friends are invited to purchase a pew for the new sanctuary.

Students of the Gordonier Elementary School on Smith Road enjoyed an all-day school fair on Saturday, March 4, along with their parents and teachers. The fair was PTA sponsored and included booths of all types, a fish pond, cake walk, ball pitch and the like. Refreshments of hot dogs, ice cream, chips, pop corn, pop and coffee also were available.

Last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rakotz and family of Essex Street and Mr. and Mrs. Stewarr McLeod and family of Wayne enjoyed snowmobiling at the Bill Clark family farm at Manistee.

On Sunday, March 5, Mrs. Mary Lou Fox of Huron River Drive South served as godmother at the baptism of David Majors, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Majors of Westland. The baby's uncle, Richard Pfomm, was godfather at the baptism, which took place at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. Following the baptism the Majors entertained at a birthday party for David and their daughter, Amy, three, which was held at the home of the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pfomm in Westland. Mrs. Fox, her son, William, three, and Miss Pearl Morris, all of Romulus, attended along with relatives.

Folks planning to attend the March 25 old-fashioned roast beef dinner at the United Methodist Church, Olive Street, Romulus, are urged to get their tickets in advance from one of the following: George Carpenter, William Oakley, Dave Draper, Gordon Silvey, Carl Morris, Gary Johnson, Thelbert Thompson, Harley Savage or at the church office. The price is $2.25 for adults; $1.25 children under 12. Russ Wilson is in charge of ticket sale in New Boston and Fred Hay, chairman in Romulus, also has tickets to sell. The event is sponsored by the Men's Club.

State chamber to give award to communities

There is a lot of talk about what is wrong and should be improved in society. So much in fact that what is being improved is often overlooked. But now, a state-wide award will be presented annually by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce to focus attention on communities which excel in overall improvement in the quality of life.

Entries are now being accepted by the State Chamber for the 1973 Community Improvement Award. The award program is more concerned with improvement in the quality of community life, rather than the stereotype Chamber of Commerce "bigness boosterism", which emphasizes growth in itself.

The program now being implemented, was created earlier by the State Chamber to stimulate individual community improvement throughout the state, Harry R. Hall, president said.

Any organization or local unit of government is eligible for the award including cities, villages and townships. The award will be presented annually starting in 1973 for the preceding calendar year. Entries will be judged on the basis of accomplishments in six of 12 categories to be chosen by the entering community.

Categories include: environmental improvement, education, economic growth, economic understanding, modernizing local government, recreational and cultural progress, housing, health facilities, utilities and services, law enforcement, human resources and business leadership.

Judging will be by an impartial group having no identity with any particular Michigan community. They will be selected for their superior interest in and knowledge of community development.

Chairman of the Award Advisory Committee is William Veaser, vice president, Upper Peninsula Power Co., Houghton and immediate past president of the board of directors of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

Persons interested in submitting entries should contact Carl Jorgensen, manager, Government and Economic Education, Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

Electric rates to go up?

An increase in present electrical fees in Sumpter Township is being considered by the township board.

Township Treasurer Mrs. Amanda Roberts requested the board's approval for a hike in electrical fees. She was supported in her request by Township Clerk Clarence J. Hoffman Jr.

The board failed to take official action pending the receipt of a legal opinion from the township attorney.

In Van Buren

Legal opinions awaited on five proposed ordinances

The adoption of five proposed new ordinances by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees await legal opinions from Thornton Hopson, township attorney.

The new ordinances relate to the establishment of a liquor control enforcement department and a fire prevention bureau in the township.

In addition, the new ordinances include regulations for the construction of swimming pools and the licensing of drive-in theaters and businesses in the township.

The township board referred the proposed ordinance to Hopson at its Feb. 22 session.

A recent ruling by the State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley stated that unchartered townships such as Van Buren do not have the authority to adopt and enact an ordinance calling for commercial establishments to obtain annual licenses. The ruling, it was stated, also applies to drive-in theaters.

The new fire prevention ordinance would establish an inspector or fire marshal in the township who would have the power to inspect it for fire hazards. He also would have the authority to inspect all the buildings and premises in the township as often as he seems necessary and would have the right to issue orders for correction of violations.

The ordinance on drive-in theaters would seek to govern the establishment and operation of such theaters. It would set the hours of operations and the type of movies which could be shown.

The registration fee for business would be $1.

The liquor control ordinance as proposed states that an enforcement bureau would insure the provisions of the state liquor laws are carried out. Inspections would be made once a month to see if the State Liquor control act is being followed by operators of licensed liquor establishments.

Boundaries announced for new voting precinct

The description of the boundaries encompassing the newly-established voting precinct for the Van Buren Public School District has been announced by school Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz.

The new precinct's boundaries as announced by Kaulitz are as follows:

North Boundary: South side of Tyler Road, being odd street address numbers, from 39400 at Hannan Road intersection westward to 43400 street address number at Morton Taylor Road intersection.

West Boundary: Southward down Morton Taylor Road from Tyler Road intersection, east side of Morton Taylor Road, being odd street address numbers starting at 9400 to 11400; crossing the Expressway to Belleville Lake; and, continuing across the lake to southward picking up at Martinsville Road (Alba from the lake), the east side of Martinsville Road, being odd numbers, to 17400 at the Bemis Road intersection.

The street address numbers for both service drives along the Expressway are from 39400 to 43400, inclusive.

South Boundary: North side of Bemis Road, being even street address numbers, from 43400 Eastward to 40600 at Metropolitan Park and through to the eastern boundary line of Van Buren Township.

East Boundary: Starting at the intersection of Tyler Road and Hannan Road, following the Van Buren Township line which is also Hannan Road, southward from street address number 9400 to 14640, inclusive, and continuing on the Van Buren Township line through Metropolitan Park.

Music program at library

Roberta Jo Blank will present a program on rhythm and music for children at the Romulus Public Library on Saturday, March 11.

Mrs. Blank is majoring in elementary physical education at Eastern Michigan University and has worked with various local theater and dance groups. She will be helping children to learn body movement patterns by listening to the moods and rhythms of music. The program will begin at 10:30 a.m. Children in grades K-5 are invited to attend.

The next children's story hour will be at 10:30 A.M. Saturday, March 18 and a Bibles meeting will follow. The Bibles will meet twice a month.

Missionary confab at Baptist church

The Berean Baptist Church, located at 6889 Belleville Rd., Belleville, will hold a Missionary Conference, March 15-19. Services will begin at 7 p.m. each night of the conference.

There will be slides at each service with the exception of Saturday night, March 18.

The missionary speaker for the Wednesday and Thursday services March 15 and 16 will be Florence Hagen of the Cleveland Hebrew Mission, Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Hagen, who is a native of Cleveland, came from an underprivileged home which was interested in spiritualism. She is a graduate of the General Course and the Missionary Course of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

John Birch Society criticizes China trip

The John Birch Society voiced strong opposition to President Nixon's trip to Communist China in a statement issued through the society's Director of Public Relations, Rex Westerfield, and made public locally by Dr.

E. Forest Chapman of 259 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville. The statement said, "We were appalled when we first learned of President Nixon's plan to visit Communist China. The John Birch Society feels the U.S. government should not fraternize with a criminal government that murdered between 34 and 63 million Chinese citizens to consolidate its power.

"To treat these barbarians as a legitimate government, to have the President of the United States meet with them as equals and to accept them as rulers of the Chinese people is a betrayal of all that the United States represents."

Westerfield continued, "One of the scenes in the ballet, depicted by the Nixons, practiced marksmanship, and their target was a caricature of General Chiang Kai-Shek. It is shocking and disgraceful that the President of the United States would attend and applaud this type of program. It is little wonder that the pro-Communist forces within the United Nations felt confident that the government of Free China could be ousted and denigrated, while the Communists could be admitted and given prestige."

"Sparked by members of the John Birch Society," Westerfield said, "hundreds of thousands of Americans protested President Nixon's trip. His visit to Communist China humiliated the American people and betrayed our anti-Communist allies."

Haggerty spelling champs announced

The school spelling bees at Haggerty Road Elementary School, 13770 Haggerty Rd., Belleville have been completed. The champions for the fifth and sixth grades and the school champion are as follows:

Lisa Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of 41434 McBride, spelled down 30 other fifth graders for her grade championship. Susette Sherry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherry of 11605 Hoyt Drive, was runner-up. Helge Johanson, son of Mrs. Ruth Draper, 42059 Zachary, became sixth grade champion with Wanda Kegley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cobern Kegley of 16435 Martinsville Rd., as runner-up.

The school champion was determined by competing the top 10 fifth graders and top 10 sixth graders together.

The winner of this contest was Debra Lorbek, fifth grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lorbek, 41530 Savage Rd., who was challenged by runner-up Karen MacDermid, sixth grade daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John MacDermid, 41445 Riggs Rd.

Other participants in the contests were fifth graders: Sharon Morioka, Barry White, Tony Allison, Caren Culver, Kyle Owen, Gordon Eccles, and Brian Brinkerhoff and sixth graders: Rena Whicello, Sara Robson, Linda Jackson, Pamela Bishop, Greg Bean, Audrey Chudzinski and Kelly Lake.

Lenten season

LENT FACES TEMPTATION

In the gospel we watch Christ face temptation in the desert. Sometimes being a Christian seems like being in a desert — straining, being dried out, always striving to be honest and unselfish.

We become hungry and thirsty for the easy life. It is tempting to use our position of power and begin dominating and exploiting and disregarding rights of others.

"Alone in their cells, frightened and in despair, five teenage boys decided to put an end to their agony and kill themselves at the Centre Berthelet detention and re-education institution for boys. Three succeeded."

(Montreal Star, Jan. 27)

It is tempting to want God to take over ... but prayer alone won't solve problems of peace, justice and poverty. It is tempting for the Christian to want to make other people good according to his idea of what is good.

LENT IS CALM

TV commercials show people strolling, talking quietly together reflecting ... about soap, deodorants, cigarettes. Each of us needs a time to stroll, to think about our life style and to determine its direction.

Lent is a time of calm — to stroll, reflect, make decisions.

There can be no going back to the Garden of Eden, Sin is in the world today to stay. It will always be a part of our lives, but this is no excuse for inaction. Redemption means the power of God continually helping us change and transform our lives.

Lent is a time to reflect and act. During Lent, do something positive. Read your Bible each day at least 15 minutes ... in the solitude of your room. Are you progressing spiritually or not? Think what Christ suffered for you, can you not do something for yourself, for your soul, Christ demands: Love God, neighbor, enemy. Do that, you will live.

Baseball meeting planned

The Women's Auxiliary of the Romulus Baseball Youth Association will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 22, at the Romulus Methodist Church, located at 11190 Olive St., Romulus.

All interested persons are urged to attend the meeting. For further information, call 941-3349.

Bids sought in Sumpter

The Sumpter Township Board will seek bids for the construction of a dog pound and fire department building in the township.

Township Clerk Clarence J. Hoffman Jr. was instructed to request sealed bids as soon as the specifications for the bids are available.

Church plans beef dinner

The annual roast beef dinner sponsored by St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Carleton will be held on Sunday, March 12, in the parish hall, located at the corner of Exeter and Labo roads, Pastor Ronald Sayes announced.

The dinner will be served from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Dinner tickets will be adults, $2.50; children under 12 years of age, $1; and children under five years of age will be admitted free.

There will be games, booths and prizes.

Church plans rummage sale

The Women's Club of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville, 11575 Belleville Rd., will hold a rummage sale March 10 and 11 in the parish hall.

On March 10 the sale hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on March 11, from 10 a.m. to noon.

Huron 4-H club to meet

The Huron Valley 4-H Club will hold its next meeting on Thursday, March 16, in the basement of St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston.

At the club's recent meeting, also held in the basement of the church, seven guests from the High Flyers 4-H Club were in attendance.

Name origin

New Brunswick was given its name from the House of Brunswick, ruling England at the time the province was established in 1784.

Romulus senior honored

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution recently chose Mary Dziedzic the "Good Citizen" of the Romulus High School Senior Class.

She was given recognition for having demonstrated the qualities of dependability, leadership, service and patriotism. Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dziedzic of 36845 Grant Rd., Romulus.

Mary was honored at a noon luncheon by the DAR women of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter on Monday, Feb. 21, at the home of Mrs. Donald Sober, 15465 Bradner Rd., Plymouth.

She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hattie Dziedzic.

Hard work pays off

The salemanship of a seventh grade student at North Junior High School in Belleville has won for him trips to Cedar Point, Ohio, Washington, D.C., and Disneyworld, Fla., not to mention a television set and many games and toys.

The most recent trip was in January of this year, when Michael Mickus, 13, won a trip to Disneyworld.

Michael, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Algrid Mickus of 41854 Ecorse Rd., Belleville, has five brothers and sisters, and delivers and sells newspapers.

His many awards are the results of "hard work" and getting up at 3 a.m. to make deliveries, his parents reported.

Lectures offered at antique show

A lecture series on antiques and collectibles will be a feature of the Detroit Spring Antique Show, March 15-19 in the East Eight Mile Armory.

Ten seminars, a different one each afternoon and evening of the five-day show, will cover topics ranging from dolls and miniatures to a history of drinking vessels.

A benefit preview, sponsored by Spirit of Detroit Association to help raise money for the 1972 Gold Cup Race on the Detroit River, will give the show a kick-off Tuesday evening, March 14.

Tickets for the preview may be purchased from association members, its office at 12730 East Warren Avenue, Detroit, or at the door. Preview ticket holders may return for a free day at the antique show on any one of its five days.

Both the preview and the five-day show are open to the general public, with all displays for sale.

Hours of the Detroit Spring Antique Show, in the Light Guard Armory, 4400 E. Eight Mile Rd., March 15 through 19, are from 1 to 11 p.m. the first four days, and from 1 to 9 p.m. on the final day, Sunday, March 19.

Free parking is provided on the grounds.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A Public Hearing on the proposed amendment to the Van Buren Township Zoning Ordinance, to establish an AP (Airport) Zoning classification will be held by the Van Buren Township Planning Commission in the Council Room, 46425 Tyler Road, Van Buren Township, County of Wayne, Belleville, Michigan, on Wednesday the 12th day of April, 1972 at 8:00 P.M.

GOVERNMENT CLASS — G. Elton Gollwitzer (left), Van Buren Township supervisor, addressed the government class at Belleville High School. The supervisor recently spoke on township problems and concerns and answered questions on the proposed Willow Run Airport expansion. The students (from left) are Jan Ellison, Marilyn Toncevich, Peggy Clift, Ronnie Kissel and Cris Kos. Behind Gollwitzer is Brenda Jamison.

Students hear supervisor

Students attending the government classes at Belleville Senior High School received a first hand report on the problems and concerns of Van Buren Township.

Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer made an appearance at the high school last Wednesday and discussed the role of township government, its problems and concerns.

He also answered students questions on the proposed expansion of the Willow Run Airport, the future of Belleville Lake, city-township annexation and housing development. Problems with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the general projected growth of the township also were discussed.

Scouts perform acts

A circus with cub scouts performing the acts and stunts was the highlight of a recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 736, sponsored by St. Aloysius Catholic School, Romulus. The cub scouts had visited the Shrine Circus while it was performing in Detroit.

The following awards were presented at the Feb. 23 meeting of the pack: David Ratcliff, received a Bobcat pin as did Bernie Roberts and Buddy Walker. John Wojcik received a gold arrow, and John Rash and James Beck received Denner badges.

Frank Delorenzo and John Steinhart were presented with assistant denner badges. Recruiter badges were awarded John Steinhart and John Rash.

The next pack meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. March 29 at the school hall.

Membership drive begun by association for retarded

The month of March has been designated as Membership Month for the Down River Association for Retarded Children, it was announced Monday by Fred Miller, president.

The local membership drive is being held in conjunction with efforts on the part of more than 1,500 member units of the National Association for Retarded Children.

NARC units across the country are seeking members during March to aid the continuing programs of mental retardation research, prevention, education and services.

In urging downriver citizens to become involved in helping to meet the needs of the retarded in this area, Fred Miller stated, "There's a big job to be done in our community and in our nation. There are more than six million mentally retarded children and adults in America — an estimated 3 per cent of our population.

"The Down River Association for Retarded Children is presently operating Down River Industrial Vocational Enterprises (DRIVE), a sheltered workshop activity center for retardates age 21 and over who reside in the area and whose parents or guardians are members. At DRIVE, under proper supervision, the adult retardate is provided the opportunity to put into practice the training and skills he has acquired in earlier years and to learn new skills. He becomes more productive and less dependent. He takes great pride in his accomplishments and is afforded a chance to socialize at his own level.

"Expansion of the program is one of DRARC's immediate goals, and is dependent on the combined efforts of DRARC, concerned citizens and business people in the area, service clubs, interested organizations of every dedication and general community support.

"Because we of the DRARC are convinced that the retarded have basic needs and basic rights, and because they cannot always express their needs or speak out on their rights as citizens, they need us to give them a hand. We want people to learn how they can help in this important task by becoming involved in the movement to provide first-class citizenship for these people."

Meetings of the DRARC are held on the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. at Garfield School, Superior and Fourth streets, Wyandotte.

Membership is open to anyone. Applications for membership and inquiries may be directed to DRARC's headquarters at 4112 13th St., Wyandotte.

Sumpter seniors meet

The Sumpter Township Senior Citizens Club will meet at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Sumpter Elementary School.

All club members are urged to attend and be on time for the meeting.

Romulus captures district cage crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Harassing Inkster with its defense, outplaying their rivals on the boards and shooting phenomenally from the floor, Romulus pulverized the undefeated Mid-Wayne Conference champ to capture their second straight Class A district championship Saturday night before a capacity crowd.

Coach Dave Court's Eagles, stung in regular season play 65-55 at Inkster, avenged their earlier loss and maneuvered into the state regional tournament which began last night against Ann Arbor Pioneer at Belleville High. The winner of the game will advance to the finals (8 p.m.) on Saturday.

Happy with the victory, Court said later, "that it was a battle between two fine clubs. It was our defense that really did it for us," pointed out

Court. "It was outstanding. I'm really pleased at the progress these boys have made."

Inkster Coach George Thompson said that "turnovers, especially in the first quarter, killed us. And I must give credit to Romulus for playing such an excellent game against us."

Inkster had the lead only once - when Ronnie Grayson slipped in for a layup in the first second of play. Then, it ran a pattern of the River Rouge game, a battle that ended in a Romulus romp.

Calvin Harris, a diminutive Romulus guard who looked and played the role of "giant-slayer" tied the score up at 2-all, then continued to dribble circles around the Vikings. Romulus' junior forward James Hall fired in two jump shots to give the Eagles a 6-2 lead and the Vikings' image began to dissipate.

With 4:48 remaining in the opening quarter, Romulus had soared to a 11-3 advantage as Hall and sophomore Johnny Long pounded Inkster's defenses. Calvin Redding and foul-plagued Kevin Williams brought some life to the Viking attack late in the quarter with six points between them, but the host still had a comfortable 25-13 margin at the end of the period.

However, Romulus' play-making guard Tony Owens sustained his third foul and Ron Kersey was called into action.

In a repeat of the first quarter, Inkster's Andy Jones sank the first basket to cut the lead 25-15, but the Vikings then hit a fatal cold streak which lasted 4½ minutes during which they failed to score a basket. Harris, Long, and Hall continued their scoring rampage while McMann handled the defenses.

When Thompson asked for a time out to look for a cure, his team trailed 37-15.

Redding and Lawrence Henderson came up with back-to-back baskets to slash the lead 37-19, then Redding dropped in a pair of free throws and a field goal and Henderson again contributed a drive in layup to cut the difference to 38-25.

However, Romulus ripped off four points - Hall and Ken McMann's two free throws to turn it into a 42-25 ball game. Before the half ended, Andy Jones found the range for two taps but those points were neutralized by Hall's three-point play, ending the quarter 45-29.

Inkster found it equally difficult to dent the Romulus margin after the half though the Vikings came within 13 points of the "red hot" Eagles. Grayson, Redding split 12 points between them and Richardson, held without a basket in the first half, scored two jumpers in the last minutes of the quarter, tried to pull their team out of the pending disaster.

Their attempts were futile however as Romulus kept a safe 17 point, 67-50, advantage for three quarters which they had little difficulty protecting the rest of the way.

The loss left the Vikings with an 18-2 over-all record on the season.

Romulus 7th in state

KEITH SIMONS

JOHN ARRINGTON

AARON CROSS

Three local wrestlers came within one victory each of capturing state championship in their respective weight classes.

Romulus' Aaron Cross and John Arrington and Belleville's Keith Simons made history for their schools, despite finishing second in the state at the tournament conducted over the weekend at Calvin College in Grand Rapids.

Romulus' four-man team also wound up seventh in the state and it was the first time in the history of the school that its wrestling team ever placed.

"I'm really pleased, tremendously pleased," said Romulus coach Jim Stallings. "I knew we had a good tournament team and I felt that since we don't have a league championship to shoot for, we'd shift our goals to the state meets."

Thereafter during the course of the season we moved our personnel around so that they would wrestle against tougher opponents," said Stallings. "It has obviously paid off."

Cross, a solidly built 138-pounder, revenge a 2-0 loss to Southfield Lathrup's Jack Kosydar in the first round of the state finals and advanced to meet Mark Sands, a regional champ who hails from Schwartz Creek.

In a tough battle all the way, the Romulus grappler managed to eke out a 7-6 victory over his rival. Then he outwrestled Warren Lincoln's John Emerson, beating him 5-1 to reach the finals.

Cross ran up against Detroit Catholic Central's Steve Rodriguez, a veteran of four state tournaments. Steve is the son of DCC's veteran coach. The Romulus grappler lost on a 12-4 decision.

Anthony has 7-2 season

Belleville's St. Anthony's CYO cagers won a cliffhanger from St. Mary's 52-51 to wind up their 1972 campaign with a 7-2 won-lost regular season record.

Coach Dick Wenzel's aggregation, led by Paul Vas and Richard Ivan, scored 469 points against 255 by their rivals. Vas, a 5 foot 10 forward, averaged 16.9 points in his nine outings while Ivan, a 5-foot-7 guard also was in double figures for the season. He had a 14.7 ppg.

"I feel that they did a wonderful job despite the fact that they were handicapped because of the lack of men on the team and that they couldn't scrimmage during the regular practices," said Wenzel, a former Belleville High all-round athlete.

Belleville put on a show for two quarters against Ann Arbor Pioneer, then hit a cold streak after intermission which proved fatal for Coach Al Gates and his Tigers in the first round of Class A district competition held at Ann Arbor Pioneer High.

The Tigers succumbed to the host, 84-66, to bring down the curtains for the 1971-72 season.

"We let down in that third period," said Gates whose Tigers wrapped up the campaign with a 5-7 won-lost Suburban 8 Conference record and a over-all 7-10 mark. "In that quarter they just hammered the boards and took control."

Pioneer, among the top-ranked teams in the state all year long, outscored the Tigers in the third quarter 24-19 and parlayed with a 38-30 avalanche which eventually led to Belleville's downfall.

Belleville managed to work its way into the lead twice, 21-19, and 16-11 but after the half the Vikings overpowered the visitors.

Garland bowed out of prep basketball with 13 field goals and four free throws for 30 points, the game's high while Miller and Cicotte also were in double figures with 15 and 11 points, respectively.

Elliott was the top scorer for the winners with 25 and Edgar Burch supported him with 20 and Keith Curry chipped in 14.

The Pioneers also made 12 of 22 at the free throw line.

Pioneer ousts Belleville

Belleville put on a show for two quarters against Ann Arbor Pioneer, then hit a cold streak after intermission which proved fatal for Coach Al Gates and his Tigers in the first round of Class A district competition held at Ann Arbor Pioneer High.

The Tigers succumbed to the host, 84-66, to bring down the curtains for the 1971-72 season.

Pioneer, among the top-ranked teams in the state all year long, outscored the Tigers in the third quarter 24-19 and parlayed with a 38-30 half-time advantage, moved to a comfortable 62-49 margin.

The Tigers couldn't muster enough scoring strength after that. But for 14 minutes, the Belleville quintet led by Mike Garland appeared to be on its way to the upset of the tourney.

Garland, the team's leading scorer, dumped in nine of his team's 14 first period points as Belleville trailed by one basket (16-14) at the end of the quarter.

With pivotman Al Cicotte and Terry Pate handicapped with three fouls, the Tigers again made the Pioneers sweat it out for the next eight minutes as Pate scored four points while Cicotte and Marty Miller each collected three.

However, Ann Arbor's Bob Elliott found the range and he poured in 13 points to start the

The best is yet to come, prep fans

Don't go away sports fans - the best is yet to come. Though most of the shooting is over on the basketball courts, and the mats have been tucked away for another year and the swimming is just about all over for the high school teams, there are still the all-area teams to pick in these sports.

The coaches, along with The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers sports staff, will be getting together to make their final selections. And in a few days we will be honoring these players, along with the Coaches of the Year.

So, stay tuned.

Sports meridian Fans prove they're real 'winners'

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

It may have been a victory for Romulus' basketball team Saturday night when they stopped Inkster High School in the finals of the Class A district tournament, but there also was another victory of sorts registered in the log books at Romulus - a "fans' victory."

With all of the emotions involved in such a heated contest by two excellent high school ball clubs, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department reported today that THERE WAS NOT ONE SINGLE INCIDENT of violence stemming from the game.

And that definitely is a victory that all fans - and player and coaches can be proud of.

It was a long time coming, but sports fans have proven they can act - react - intelligently.

One can only shudder at some of the incredulous reports that have been coming over the wires since the beginning of the tournament: two Bay City high-school students reported in fair condition after being shot. They were trying to break up a fight after a basketball game; games being played behind closed doors, need I say more?

The game Saturday shows that when high schools are well-organized to confront trouble-makers, they can do so.

We have to commend Romulus principal Joel R. Carr and his staff for organizational acuity that led to a "perfect tournament."

But this is only a beginning, fighting ignorance is a 24-hour job for all of us.

And Inkster High may have hung up their cage jerseys for the season, but school officials are already preparing for the 1972-73 year, according to Kam White, athletic director.

"We are going to have bleachers installed for about 900 more fans next year," said White. "We had them on order this year but they arrived too late to get them installed."

"However, I'm sure our fans will be glad to know that we will be having these seats for them next year," said White.

But the prospects of Inkster competing in a new league remains bleak, pointed out the AD. It appears that the Vikings will go "independent" like many other area schools.

Inkster is affiliated presently with the Mid-Wayne Conference but that's doomed for dissolution after the current school year. Presently Lofton Greene, River Rouge's veteran cage coach, is trying to lineup several schools to form a new league.

"We've gotten together on a couple of occasions with these schools," said White, "but we still can't buy what they're selling."

Romulus also is going it alone, according to principal Carr. "I believe a league championship would provide added incentive, but I also believe that the schools with whom we align must be compatible in all respects not only in sports," Carr added.

Can't help but recall the story of the high school basketball coach who had this very long losing streak. It seems that one of the fans was so perturbed about the team's losses that he decided to write the local newspaper and announce that he was refusing to pay taxes to support such an incompetent coach.

Upon reading the statement to the editor, the coach said, "Fine." And immediately he sat down and computed what the fan's share of taxes was that went into the coach's paycheck.

"Enclosed," wrote the coach to the fan, "you find six cents, your share of the taxes. You'd do us a favor by keeping away."

Sure enough, the fan didn't attend the next day - and the team won.

And there was this other team that just couldn't win, but each game the gym was jammed. "Faithful fans?" asked a visitor. "Nope, they haven't won in so many years that fans attend the games because they're afraid they won't be there when they win one."

Inkster meant business last week when the school administration announced, "it would no longer be selling standing room tickets for the basketball games in the future."

Scores of late-arriving basketball fans learned the hard way about the school edict last Friday night as they were turned away from the Inkster High and Garden City East game. If you didn't already possess a ticket, you were out of luck and standing in the cold.

I know. I was one of those late-arrivals.

I watched frustrated fans at the door begging security officers to let them in, even offering them bribes "to open the door". But the fans got the "There's nothing I can do" replay from the officers.

At Motor City grid clinic

Prep coaches hear Devaney

The number one and two college football coaches in the United States, in terms of won and lost records, will be featured speakers to approximately 1200 Michigan and mid-west states college, high school and junior high coaches attending the 12th annual Motor City Football Clinic.

The clinic will be conducted in the community building of St. Mary's of Redford High School in Detroit.

Walt Bazylewicz, clinic director, announced that Bob Devaney, coach of the national champion University of Nebraska team and Frank Kush the Western Conference Arizona State University title holders, will be among 11 leading college and high school mentors participating on clinic staff.

Coach Devaney and his Nebraska Cornhuskers captured the national championship in 1970-71. Devaney's team won the Big Eight Conference championship seven times in the last nine years, making bowl appearances eight times in a 10 year span. His record now stands 128 wins, 28 losses, and 6 ties for a .790 per cent.

Coach Frank Kush, a former Michigan State All American and assistant coach has a phenomenal winning record of 111 - 30 - 1 for a .782 percentage.

Also on the staff of the Motor City Football Clinic will be John Majors of Iowa State and Cal Stoll, the new head coach at Minnesota.

Other coaches to participate are Chuck Knox, offense line coach, Detroit Lions, Tom Cecchini, new head coach at Xavier University along with prep coaches Charles Jestice, Fordson High School, Class A State Champions.

Al Fracassa of Brother Rice, Detroit Catholic League co-champions, and Dar

Christianson, Flint Southwestern, Saginaw Valley Champions.

The clinic is open to all college, high school and junior league mentors and football buffs. Clinic reservations may be made through The Motor City Football Clinic, 2012 Thomas, Berkley, Michigan 48072.

10 qualify for state

Belleville swimmers are 2nd

Clipping seven of their own records, Belleville High swimmers wound up the regular season last week finishing second in the tough Suburban Conference title race to defending state champ, Dearborn.

Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy's called his team's over-all performance as "fantastic."

"When we compare our last year's times to that of a year ago and also use the criteria to compare the other teams in the league, we swam better this year than any other team. 'I think it's fantastic the way that these boys performed,' said Vicchy.

Belleville had one league champ. Senior Jim Ackron captured the 100-yard breaststroke as he shattered the school record in 1:05.5. The Tigers also placed second in the diving as Barry Susterka lost the gold medal to Allen Park's Mike Cantop, the winner piling up 370.35 points.

The Tigers also were second when Jeff Fry finished the 100-yard freestyle event in 50 seconds, also a school record. Other school records to topple were: the 200-yard freestyle, Curt Cullin, 1:54.1 (5th place); Jim Ackron, 200-yard individual medley, 2:07.23 (3rd place); Dean Ackron, 100-yard butterfly 56.46 (3rd place), Curt Cullin, 400-yard freestyle, 4:05.1 (5th place), and the 400-yard freestyle relay: Terry Mills, Jeff Leidel, Dean Ackron, and Jeff Fry (2nd place (3:25.8.6).

Dearborn dominated the meet. The defending Class A state champ won eight of the 11 events, compiling 117 points en route to the inaugural Suburban 8 Conference championship.

Allen Park finished second in the league meet, nosing out Belleville 43-42, while Livonia Bentley followed with 27. Trailing in the standings were Dearborn Edsel Ford (24), Plymouth (14), Trenton (12) and Redford Union (7).

Vicchy will take a 10-man delegation to the state class A finals to be held at the University of Michigan on Saturday. Among those who will compete are: Terry Mills, the 50 freestyle and 400-yard freestyle relay; Curt Cullin, 200 and 400 yard freestyle events; Brad Susterka, the 200-yard individual medley and Barry Susterka, the diving; Jim Ackron, the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard breaststroke; Dean Ackron, the 400-yard freestyle, the 100-yard freestyle relay; Jeff Leidel, the 400-yard freestyle relay and Jeff Fry, the 50,100,200 freestyle events and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Now the weary panel will rest up over the summer months until once again it comes time to pick and choose the winners of area high school contests.

The Romulus senior then advanced to the finals where he clashed with Pete D'Luge of Mt. Clemens L'Anse Creuse, losing to his rival 6-2. The local grappler was forced to settle for a silver medal in the 167 pound class.

Simons, who set a national cons record for consecutive pins during the season (24), lost a cliffhanging 7-4 decision to Jim Oliver of Hazel Park, in overtime.

In the preliminaries, Keith won two out of three matches with pins. He defeated Paul Knapp of Southfield, 6-0, then disposed of Flushing's Joe Rose, 5:51 and then took 4:43 to wipe out Muskegon's Jay Achterhoff.

Lansing Eastern, which accumulated a total of 33½ points, was crowned the Class A champ. Following the champ in the final standings were: Schwartz Creek (33), Battle Creek Central (28), Pontiac Northern (27), Hazel Park (25), Detroit Catholic Central (24½), Romulus (22), Lansing Sexton (20½), Ann Arbor Huron (19½), Grand Ledge (19).

Belleville finished with 12 points - all contributed by Simons - and placed 18th.

goals and eight free throws was his team's leading scorer with 28 points, tying Romulus' Long performance. Inkster also received double figures from Jones who had 14 and Grayson who added 10.

Long sacked his 28 on 11 field goals and six free throws while Hall was nearby with 24 and Harris planted 10 field goals in the baskets and picked up three free throws for 23 points.

Kause wins 4 swim ribbons

John Kause claimed four ribbons for his performances at the Walled Lake Swim Meet Kause, a member of the Tiger Swim Club, took a fifth and a pair of sixth places in the 25 yard butterfly, 25 yard breaststroke, and 25-yard backstroke, respectively, for the eight and under age group.

John also teamed up with brother Jim Chris Renton, and Joe Thomas to place fourth in the 200-yard medley relay event with a clocking of 2:45.2.

In the boys 11 and 12 years age group, Howard Renton finished fourth and fifth for his 50 and 100-yard backstroke events, respectively.

athletic director, who saw me standing in the cold and beckoned me in. (After all, this lonely job of pounding a typewriter does have some benefits.)

Thanks, Kam May you soon have a gym that will seat 4,000.

Oh yes, it cost the administration a couple of broken windows to enforce their new ticket policy — I saw the front door crack and a lockerrrom window also suffered similar fate, but all-in-all I think everyone who saw the game felt it was worth it.

There was ample room for players to perform and, equally important, for fans to watch the game.

I doubt any coach will argue that when you have an overcrowded condition it has a corresponding detrimental effect on the player's ability to perform. Because of the tremendous amount of heat - body heat generated and the amount of oxygen consumed, breathing by players becomes extremely difficult - and they tire quickly and, if not for any other reason, crowds should be kept as normal as possible in small gyms.

And isn't it about time for the Inkster board of education to give serious thought of enlarging or renovation the present Inkster High gym. Let's not kid ourselves. — Basketball is "King" at the high school, it's a money maker and the incessant flow of outstanding basketball teams at the school have brought an ever-increasing demand for tickets.

It's about time that the board gives prime consideration to: The expansion of the present sports facilities. They owe that to the Inkster residents and the fans.

It was also the last time Inkster Coach George Thompson Jr. and Garden City East High Coach Billy Joe Young would face one another as league rivals. East will join the Northwest Suburban Conference at the end of the school year, replacing Birmingham Groves.

Inkster presently hasn't made plans to joining another league, "but, according to Kam White, they are looking around."

"We exchanged thoughts after the game," said Coach Young. "And I went over to talk to George's boys and told them in the 11 years I have played against Inkster High School basketball teams I thought this one team was the best.

"And I also told them that I hoped they went all the way in the state tournament ... that is, if our paths don't cross on the way."

There was also a feeling of comradeship between the players of the two teams after the game. Despite the closeness — Inkster won 90-89 — the Vikings invited their rivals in for a swim.

Who sez all prep games have to end in rock-slinging, muckraking?

Romulus bowlers finding the range

Action continues on the wild side at the Wayne Bowl as members of the Romulus Teachers' Bowling League vie for improved position in the league standings.

J.T. Washington claimed the high individual game as he carried a 217, which is 47 pins over his sanctioned average. Karen Rocheleau banged a 226 to capture the lead in the lady's department, her game was 86 pins over his average.

Miss Rocheleau continued to take command as she came through with a 537 series for top spot in that department. Ed Abdo rolled a 554 to take the individual series among the male competitors.

Team No. 11, captained by Earl Lamb came through with a 506 for high team game while Team No. 11 capped off the evening's performance with a 1358 for high series honors. Team No. 11 consists of Lamb, Miss Rocheleau and Irene Abdo.

Stadium financing approved

New plan may speed construction of domed facility

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners Thursday approved plans designed to speed the construction of the proposed $126 million domed stadium on Detroit's riverfront.

A revised stadium financing plan was approved 20-4 with one abstention from Commissioner John N. Sabo Jr. (D-24th Dist.), who represents part of Westland and all of Wayne, Romulus, Van Buren Township, Belleville and Sumpter Township. When the county board first approved pledging the county's faith and credit behind the stadium, Sabo voted against the proposal, criticizing the proposed method of financing.

Approving the revised financing plan were Commissioners James R. McCartney (D-25th Dist.), representing part of Westland, Inkster and all of Garden City, James DeSana (D-23rd Dist.), representing Huron Township, and John Lesinski (D-20th Dist.), representing part of Inkster.

Commissioner John J. McCann (D-26th Dist.), who represents Canton Township, opposed the plan. The new plan calls for the purchase of the stadium site and surrounding acreage by the Wayne County Stadium Authority. Originally Detroit Renaissance Inc., a group of business leaders formed to help bring about redevelopment of the central city, was to find a private developer to purchase the property. Through a series of trades, the stadium site would have been donated with the surrounding land developed by private interests.

Under the new plan, the Stadium Authority will use $12 million of the $126 million to purchase most of the 172 acres of land west of Cobo Hall, including the 37-acre stadium site. The authority will ask the City of Detroit to spend $3 million from revenue bonds floated for Civic Center improvement to buy property which will complete assembly of the 72 acres, now owned by two railroads.

The commissioners faced a warning from the Wayne County Board of Auditors, which presented revised financial projections recently which indicate the stadium will not bring in the revenue originally expected.

As compared to the stadium authority's original projections of September, 1971, the revised gross costs of the project have been increased a net total of $6,960 million consisting of an increase of $12 million for land acquisition offset by a $5,040,000 reduction in gross financing costs.

According to the county auditors, "From the viewpoint of minimizing the possibility of the need to use county general funds to underwrite stadium deficits, the board should be concerned by the proposed reduction of $6,300,000 in the guarantee fund reserve."

With the reserve fund reduced by this amount, and left at $2,621,000, the auditors warned that "such a reserve ... is insufficient for a project of the magnitude of the stadium."

In voting against the measure, McCann spoke of the revised figures as outlined by the county auditors, charging that "no one has given any consideration to the people we expect to use this stadium," and that the county "has done a disservice especially to the people of the inner city, who won't be able to afford it (going to the stadium)."

For Romulus millage election

Voting precincts listed

The voters of the Romulus Community School District will cast ballots in a special election March 13 on a millage renewal proposition.

The school district is seeking voter approval of a 10-mill tax levy which expired with the collection of 1971 school property taxes.

To assist school district voters, the Roman-Enterprise is listing the location of the district's voting precincts. They are as follows:

- Precinct No. 1 — Romulus Junior High School, 11401 Olive St., Romulus, 941-2770.
- Precinct No. 2 — Harrison Elementary School, 14701 Harrison Rd., Romulus, 941-0433.
- Precinct No. 3 — Fire Hall No. 3, 6900 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 722-9655.
- Precinct No. 4 — Merriman Elementary School, 15303 Merriman Rd., Romulus, 941-6900.
- Precinct No. 5 — Romulus City Hall, 11111 Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-0666.
- Precinct No. 6 — Gordonier Elementary School, 29814 Smith Rd., Romulus, 721-2630.
- Precinct No. 7 — Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, 39000 Superior, Romulus, 941-1074.

Conservationists fight House bill

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs, a statewide citizens organization whose purpose it is to advance the cause of conservation in all phases, is fighting a State House bill which would "entrust scientific management of wildlife to local politicians."

Composed of 330 affiliated clubs, the group has been in Lansing fighting bills which would despoil the resources and the environment.

The M.U.C.C. sent a strong letter of protest to Rep. Warren Goemaere, chairman of the House Conservation and Recreation Committee, co-chaired by Thomas Anderson of Southgate, against House Bill 5705. The bill, introduced by Rep. John P. Smeekeens of Coldwater, would give the county boards of commissioners the final authority to decide whether or not to have a deer season in their county and would give the commissioners their choice of taking deer of either sex or both sexes.

"This would entrust scientific management of wildlife to local politicians," charged George Kadar of District 5 of the M.U.C.C.

According to Kadar, a bill which should be supported is Senate Bill 392, the Discretionary Authority Act, which would place fish and game matters pertaining to seasons and bag limits with the Natural Resources Commissioner's and the Department of Natural Resources biologists' recommendations.

"The bill should be supported by the hunters and fishermen and the Senate Committee on Conservation and Tourist Industry to and sportsmen's clubs," Kadar said. He recommended sending a card in support of the bill so it will be let out from the Senate Committee on Conservation and Tourist Industry to Sen. Gordon Rockwell, chairman of the committee, who also is the author of the bill with two other senators. Cards can be sent to Sen. Gordon Rockwell, State Capital, Lansing, Mich. 48901.

License applicant submits restaurant plans to board

Louis A. Toth of 44119 Harmony Lane, Belleville, has presented to the Van Buren Township Board plans for the construction in the township of a new Class A restaurant with complete dining facilities and separate bar.

Toth is one of more than 15 applicants seeking the three new Class C liquor licenses allotted the township by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC).

As a result of a population increase reflected in the 1970 U.S. Census, the township received the three new Class C licenses. The board and the township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer have announced that before any of the licenses are recommended by the board for issuance by the MLCC, actual specifications and plans for proposed facilities must be submitted by the applicants.

Toth reported his proposed restaurant will be built in the vicinity of Rawsonville Road and the I-94 Expressway. He disclosed his restaurant would be called "Mr. T's" and would cater to family-type business.

The township board has committed one of the licenses to Toth, but the board's commitment is based on specifications being submitted and accepted by the board.

Guidelines aid sofa bed shoppers

New sofa bed styles are appealing to many people in many different situations, says Margaret Boschetti, extension home furnishings specialist at Michigan State University.

They serve double duty as an attractive couch and space-saving hide-away bed. With prices starting at about $230, a convertible provides this flexibility for no more than you might pay for a sofa alone.

But beds-in-disguise are "blind" products, says the United States Consumers Union. That is, you can't easily judge their quality. The staggering variety of models, styles, sizes and constructions make it almost impossible for consumers to know exactly what they are buying.

Consumer's Union offers these observations and buying guidelines:

Comfort: A sofa bed is seldom as comfortable for sleeping as a mattress-box spring combination. It has no box spring, the mattress is relatively thin, so you're likely to feel the support rods when you lie down. Besides, convertible mattresses aren't stiffened at the edge, as are most conventional mattresses.

Durability: According to Consumer's Union, a convertible will not last as long as most regular beds. Neither the mattress, padding nor insulation can be reversed to prolong its life.

Ease of Operation: Before you buy, be sure the bed mechanism isn't too stiff to open and fold conveniently.

The Bed as a Sofa: Most sofa beds are as comfortable as conventional sofas but, since people differ in size and build, it's a good idea to try out individual pieces in the store. And be sure to check the dimensions, to be sure it will fit in the space you've planned for it.

Upholstery: Sofa quality depends in good measure on the performance of upholstery covering. Sofa makers and fabric manufacturers should know how fabrics will perform in regard to the USA standard for minimum strength, resistance to yarn slippage, colorfastness and seam strength. Few convertibles, however, carry an upholstery guarantee.

Other Criteria: Other factors that might be important in your selection are availability, guarantee and price. According to Consumer's Union, delivery time can range from 2 to 15 weeks, with most deliveries taking the longer time. Depending on the fabric covering you choose, the price for the same basic sofa may vary as much as 75 per cent.

WINNING COMBINATION — Project undisputed good taste with these double-breasted beauties. Both the handsome blazer jacket and the fitted bolero will be ready for whatever the day brings, be it pants or the skirt with interesting rib detail. Tailored "V" necklines invite pretty blouses and scarves for accessorizing the many-mix-and-match costumes you can achieve. Leave the sleeves out of the blazer and you have a perfect pattern for the ageless, ever-popular vest. Beginners and seasoned crocheters alike will enjoy working with four-ply yarn and the "almost effortless" double-crochet stitch pattern. Sizes Small, Medium and Large are ALL included in the pattern. To order, CROCHET 744 - DOUBLE-BREADED BLAZER, BOLERO & SKIRT, send $1.50 in currency, check or money order to Lois Holmes of California, The Daily Eagle, Box 6002, Inglewood, Calif. 90301. Please print your name, address, ZIP code and pattern number plainly. Send 15 cents for EACH pattern for first-class mail and special handling or 25 cents EACH for air-mail.

What women should know about wills

Ever since she was a young bride, Eleanor Ryerson has had a precious Limoges china service.

Mrs. Ryerson, a widow with two grownup sons in Australia, had always meant to leave the Limoges china to a niece who used to help her out with shopping and entertaining whenever the Ryersons had guests. Mrs. Ryerson died recently and because she made no will, her niece never received the china service.

The case of Eleanor Ryerson - not her real name - is unfortunately typical of many women, widowed, married and single, who failed to make a will and so deprived themselves of an opportunity to dispose of their property as they might have wished to.

Why do so many married women neglect to make wills? Much of the problem, it would seem, stems from a mistaken belief that one will - the husband's - is entirely sufficient per family. Also, some feel that their property is "just not worth" drawing up a will. This despite the fact that many a woman's estate - real and personal property - may include valuable jewelry, furs, paintings and heirlooms as well as life insurance policies, stocks, bonds and real estate.

What some married women fail to realize is that in the event of the husband's death, their own passing away without a will could thwart any joint plans the couple might have had for the distribution of their property. It also means leaving property for disposal by a court-appointed administrator, according to state law. In the circumstances, the property might not be distributed according to the owner's wishes, but on top of that, there are usually probate and administrative expenses, leaving a reduced estate.

A particular advantage of a wife making a will while her husband is still alive, advises the Institute of Life Insurance, is that she can benefit by their discussing the subject jointly as well as participate in joint planning for children and grandchildren. A woman who waits to make a will until she becomes widowed may find that decision-making comes harder.

The absence of a will can cause unavoidable hardships. What if a husband were to die leaving a will in which the wife receives everything and then she dies shortly afterwards? If there are young children, the consequences might be extremely serious unless their mother has left a will naming a person specifically responsible for their care. The children's guardianship might be left for strangers to decide on.

In the case of an unmarried woman with no dependents, a will assures that her estate will go to where she feels it will do the most good. This can mean named relatives, friends, schools, a religious group or charities. Otherwise her property would revert automatically to relations, however distant and perhaps totally unknown.

Should there be considerable assets, additional professional help may be needed when making a will. Depending on the kinds of assets involved - a trust officer, accountant and a life insurance agent along with the lawyer may make up an estate planning team.

Life insurance policies where the beneficiary is named are not included in wills. This facilitates payment of benefits which are usually needed by the survivors for immediate income. The Institute urges both husbands and wives to talk over the family life insurance and settlement arrangements so that both understand what policies exist, why they were bought, what they will do for husband and wife in later years, or for the family in case of death. Knowing the answer helps make sure that best possible use is made of policies intended to protect the family's security.

Inflation hits farmers

While farm prices have moved up 7.8 percent over the last 20 years, the cost of items farmers must purchase to grow food for the nation has jumped 52 per cent.

Collectively the nation's farmers and ranches annually spend $42 billion in producing livestock and crops as well as $13 billion for the same goods and services nonfarm consumers buy, plus $5 billion in taxes. While comprising only 5 per cent of the total population, farmers and ranchers help pay the wages and salaries of millions of non-farming Americans engaged in producing the equipment, materials and services required for the efficient operation of farms and ranches.

Four area seniors chosen Homemakers of Tomorrow

Four senior girls in this area have been named as their school's Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow for 1972. They were chosen on the basis of their scores in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken by senior girls on December 7 and will receive a specially designed award charm from General Mills, sponsor of the annual educational program. Additionally, each is now eligible for state and national honors.

Winners include Carolyn Wright, a senior at Huron High School who makes her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Windeler of 22450 Foxcroft, Woodhaven. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright.

Lincoln High School's award recipient is Penny W. Wilms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norlan Anderson of 7382 Rawsonville Road, Belleville.

Selected from Belleville High School's senior class is Deborah Evanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evanski of 14000 Hoeft Road, Belleville.

And winner at Romulus High School was Joan Krasuski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krasuski of 30696 Smith Road, Romulus.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow, to be selected from all school winners in the state in judging which will center on performance in the Dec. 7 test, will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship. Her school will receive a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica from Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. A scholarship of $500 will go to the second-ranking girl in the state.

This April, the 51 Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow representing every state and the District of Columbia - each accompanied by a faculty adviser - will be given an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C. Personal observation and interviews during the tour, added to the earlier state-level judging results, will culminate in the announcement of the 1972 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow at the conclusion of the tour. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000, with those of three runners-up raised to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

In addition to the awards for school, state and national Homemakers of Tomorrow, a special $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship has been added to the Betty Crocker Search program this year. To earn this award, a girl must be planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, rank among the highest in her state in the overall Search examination and achieve the top score, from those meeting the first two criteria, on the test's nutrition questions.

During the 18 years since the program's inception, enrollment has totaled over eight and one-quarter million, and, with this year's grants, scholarship awards will reach almost $2 million.

Daughter's engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Leadingham of 30351 West Road, New Boston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharron Kay, to Larry Lee O'Quinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollon O'Quinn of 943 Quattril Way, Baltimore, Maryland.

The bride-elect attended Huron High School and her fiancé is a former student at Baltimore Community College in Baltimore. He is currently employed by the Ford Motor Company at Woodhaven.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Dunce caps were used in many Canadian schools before World War I.

A freezer can mean savings

A FOOD FREEZER CAN LOWER THE FAMILY FOOD BILL.

Here are some saving ways:

—Take advantage of market specials.

—Buy by planning, not by impulse.

—Purchase large quantities of food at the peak of the season, when prices are lowest and supplies most abundant.

—Freeze fresh fruits and vegetables when in season - grow your own or buy in quantity.

—Freeze leftovers - serve them later as planned overs.

—Keep your freezer full or nearly full of foods you can use. Your freezer is a large investment, and the more use you make of the space, the lower the cost.

—A few steps to the freezer will save time and transportation costs to the market.

—Saves the homemaker time in the kitchen because of quantity cooking.

—Freeze snacks, casseroles, individual slices of cake, cookies, different flavors of ice cream. This advance pre-preparation gives you more time to enjoy friends if they drop in whether it be meal time or snack time.

—Freeze leftover slices of bread to use for crumbs or dressing, chopped green pepper, onion, celery, and parsley in individual packages to save cleaning and cutting time at the last minute, leftover butter frosting to add a quick topping to desserts, cubes of cooked meat or chicken for salads, butter balls, pats or curls for special occasions.

—Freeze and give personal gifts from your kitchen. Make breads, cakes, candies, spiced nuts, etc. and freeze them in advance. Some may be gift wrapped before freezing.

—Package party sandwiches, canapés, hors d'oeuvres or desserts. Your menu can be as elaborate as you like if you plan ahead and use your freezer.

Fewer foreclosures

The rate and number of foreclosures is one of the lowest on record, according to the National Association of Home Builders. At 0.3481 per cent of all mortgages in 1970, foreclosures were 25 per cent below 1967 levels. When buying a home, a handy rule of thumb is that a family can afford a house priced between two and two-and-a-half times its annual income. Another gauge is that a family can afford to spend between 20 and 30 per cent of its annual income for "housing", rental or ownership, including home maintenance.

Why have children?

Few people ever analyze the reasons that led them to become parents. Research into the psychological satisfactions that are derived from having children is now underway in a number of institutions, according to a bulletin from the Population Reference Bureau, Inc.

Answers are being sought to such questions as: Can a child save a marriage? Are children fun? Does producing a child prove to a couple they are adult? Are there religious or moral reasons? So little is known about the psychology of childbearing that it has been assumed that the process is simple. Evidence shows that is not. — PRB Selection No. 39

Hayti PTA makes spring fair plans

Every Thursday morning until May, Hayti Elementary School's PTA mothers will meet in the school kitchen to prepare items for sale at the annual Spring Fair.

This year the group not only is getting ready for the fair, but also learning some new skills.

Under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Cost, the ladies are finding out about greenware, slip, glazes and kiln temperatures as they make ceramic items to be raffled at the fair. Mrs. Cost is donating her time and some of the supplies to help with the project.

Another skill learned this year is that of quilt making. Mrs. Mary Bozelak has taught the ladies the art of quilting and plans are to raffle the colorful patchwork quilt.

Mrs. Carole Filkins is chairman for the event, which has "Snoopy and His Friends" as its theme.

Cub troop 1739 receives awards

Cub Scout Pack 1739 sponsored by the Harrison Elementary School in Romulus, presented the following awards at the pack's recent meeting held at the school:

Bob Linne was presented with a Denner bar, Tony Clark received a Wolf badge and a gold and silver arrow. Kyle Krueger received a Wolf badge and a gold and silver arrow. Ricky Cottongim was presented with a Webelos book and scarf, and Lee Pingilly got a Bobcat pin and Bear book.

David McCallum received the following pins: Athletic, Engineer, Scientist, and Sportsman. Ricky Cottongim also was presented with Artist and Scientist pins.

Steve Cook, John Gendron and Randy Jerinigen were presented Scientist pins.

Cubmaster Dennis Kidder announced the monthly meetings of the pack are held in the multi-purpose room of the school on the fourth Wednesday of each month.

Steve Finch grabs spelling bee crown

Steve Finch, an eighth grade student at Romulus Junior High School, has won the school spelling bee to become eligible for the district bee to be held in Huron on March 22.

As school champion, Steve will be awarded a bronze medal, a certificate of championship and a copy of Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary.

Mrs. Linda Cook, junior high school coordinator for the competition, announced students have been holding spelling bees during February to compete in the Detroit News-sponsored competition.

Linda Popich, seventh grade level winner and finalist with Steve, won a Paper Mate automatic pen.

Bids sought for police car

The Sumpter Township Board has authorized advertising for bids for the purchase of a second police car for the township.

Township Clerk Clarence J. Hoffman Jr. was instructed to prepare notice of bids for publication.

The township board also approved advertising for bids to repair the roofs on the township fire hall and the township hall.

Seventh grade homeroom champions are Nancy Popich, Kathy Bergmossner, Karen Johnson, Mike Pate, Roberta Hester, Dennis Wright, Celeste Allen, Brian Dupree, Linda Straight, Kenny Ark, Jeff Hubbard, Loretta Vickerman, Andrea Bledsoe, Wiendel Buckley, Alicia Guilford, Marco Hernandez and Darlene Cunningham.

Eighth grade champions are Steve Finch, Mark Collins, Pat Dorman, Terry Clark, John Zurowski, Linda Olenka, Ed Abbott, Cheryl Brown, Wilma Batter, Diane Banks, Timothy Nielson, Mary Fyfe, Steven Harper, James Brinkley, Robin Glover and LeAnn Silvey.

Our men in service

Richard W. Schulte, son of Mrs. Jean M. Schulte, 3170 Lafayette Dr., Trenton, has been promoted to sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sgt. Schulte, a communications equipment repairman at Langley AFB, Va., serves with a unit of the Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for the USAF.

The sergeant is a 1968 graduate of Trenton High School. His father, Lester B. Schulte Jr., resides in Carlton.

Army Private Joseph Dittrich Jr., 18, whose parents live at 18339 Inkster Rd., Romulus, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and army history and traditions.

Pvt. Dittrich received his training with company A of the 5th Brigade's 19th Battalion.

The private is a 1971 graduate of Flat Rock High School.

Marine Cpl. Douglas P. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Harper of 46570 Willis Rd., Belleville, has completed specialized civil disturbance training at the Marine Barracks, Quantico Point, R.I.

Army Private Roy A. Cheever Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Cheever, 9060 Talladay Rd., Willis, is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif., where he is training under the modern volunteer army field experiment.

The new concept, called VOLAR, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections gives the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the VOLAR concept.

Pvt. Cheever began his training on Jan. 24 and is scheduled to complete the first phase on March 17.

The soldier is a 1968 graduate of Lincoln High School, Ypsilanti.

Sergeant Roy D. Bigham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Bigham of 39226 Superior, Romulus, is participating in a weather research project being conducted in the Amarillo, Texas area by meteorologists of the U.S. Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratory.

Sgt. Bigham, a weather observer, is among 32 members of the 6th Mobile Weather Squadron at Tinker AFB, Okla., who are assisting the scientists in developing methods of forecasting clear air turbulence.

Such turbulence - which is undetectable by radar and cannot be forecast - is an area of concern to military and civilian aviation agencies because such phenomena has caused damage to aircraft and injuries to passengers.

The sergeant, a 1968 graduate of Romulus High School, attended Lawrence Institute of Technology, Southfield.

COMMISSION PRESENTED - Navy Ensign Earl A. Polenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl O. Polenz of 40309 Tyler Rd., Belleville, receives his commission to his present rank upon graduation from Aviation Officer Candidate School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. Capt. R.S. Davidson (far left), commanding officer of the Naval Aviation School, does the honors while his parents and wife, Donna, look on. He will now go on to the next phase of flight training under the Naval Aviation Program and will be awarded the "Wings of Gold" of a naval aviator upon completion of more than one year of intensive ground and in-flight training. He is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

Water resources group okays wastewater plan

The Michigan Water Resources Commission, meeting Feb. 17 and 18 in Lansing, approved the remaining portions of the Southeast Michigan Interim Basin Wastewater Control Plan, which includes the controversial Huron River Basin Sewer Interceptor connecting to a large waste treatment plant on Lake Erie.

Spokesmen for Ann Arbor presented further arguments for retaining their own waste treatment plant on the Huron River. Communities farthest upstream from the proposed Huron River plant on Lake Erie have protested extra costs to their citizens in joining the interceptor system. The commission, however, expressed positive opinion that the best alternative had been chosen for the region as a whole, "based on all information which has been presented."

Staff members pointed out that no water or sewer construction grants are available for the entire region until the Southeast Michigan Interim Basin Plan is approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The commission will review a written staff analysis of similar protests of the City of Warren against joining a regional waste treatment system as provided in the regional plan previously approved by the WRC. The analysis is to include past conferences with Warren, a special meeting with Warren officials Feb. 16 of this year and the Clinton River regional plan itself. Decision is expected during the March commission meeting.

New U.S. Army standards don't mean easy admittance

With the U.S. Army committed to a modern volunteer force by July 1973, you might think doors of recruiting offices would be wide open, ready for any warm body that happened by. But just the opposite is true—entrance standards actually have been substantially increased.

"When we do reach a modern volunteer status, we want to make sure we have a representative Army, encompassing men and women from all levels of society," said SSgt. Ronald Ames, local recruiter for Wayne station, 3716 Newberry St., Wayne.

"To do this we must make the Army an attractive choice for young men and women, a place where they have good educational and vocational opportunities and a salary compatible with civilian jobs," he said.

"We've made great strides in these directions, but most people aren't aware of the changes that have occurred, both in opportunities and personal freedoms.

"And we not only have to get these facts across to the young people," SSgt. Ames said, "but also to their parents, since their views of Army life usually are tremendously out of date.

"For example, many parents think the Army still pays soldiers about $75 a month. With the new pay raise

Spelling winner named

Carla Bullard, sixth grade student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bullard of 10024 Quirk Rd., Belleville, is winner of the Quirk Elementary School spelling bee.

Jane Salutz, another sixth grader, was runner-up. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Salutz of 10990 Belleville Rd.

The spellers for the fifth grade were Ted Greer, Carol Middlebrooks, Marcia Doman, Judy Hrabosky, Michele Burlett, Cindy Shirley, Cindy Cyriax, Peggy Calhoun, Larry Cicotte and Charles Bullock.

The spellers for the sixth grade were JoAnn Heath, Dixie Hayes, John Loop, Debbie Craycraft, Danny Skyles, Kevin Patke and Denise Nerswick.

Spelling champs announced

South Junior High School in Belleville held a spelling bee for the seventh and eighth grades on Feb. 23.

The top 10 spellers in the seventh and eighth grades participated. Judges were David Medley, Mrs. Georgina Fries, teachers and Mrs. Helen Nass, assistant principal.

The winner was Nancy Beegle of the eighth grade and the runner-up was Jane Jeffery of the seventh.

Nancy will participate in the district spelling bee to be held at 9 a.m. March 22 at the Huron Junior High cafeteria, New Boston.

Drama groups listed

Interested in drama?

There are now many drama groups operating in the Van Buren Township community, James Lightfoot, newly-appointed Van Buren Township recreational director, revealed.

The Elwell Drama Club, open to fifth and sixth grade students of the Elwell Elementary School in Belleville, is under the direction of Mrs. Julie Adams.

The Junior High Drama Group is open to any student of either North or South Junior High Schools. Mrs. Betty Sullivan, teacher at South Junior High School, is director.

A new group, the High School Drama Society, is open to any high school student dedicated to creative theater. Lightfoot is director.

The Belleville Community Players, an adult drama group, is also available to area residents and is under the direction of Mrs. Adams.

that went into effect, newly enlisted soldiers now receive $288.00 a month—plus room, board and numerous other benefits," SSgt. Ames said.

"And some parents also are somewhat nervous about their son or daughter enlisting because they feel they'll be associating only with persons of low moral character or low intelligence.

"This is absolutely not the case now, and Army standards are being further raised to insure it never will be the case," the sergeant said.

"Some parents actually have become quite angry when they brought their son to a recruiting station and said, 'Sign him up,' and we have had to tell them, after initial discussion and testing, that he doesn't meet Army standards and cannot be enlisted."

Thus, in order to fulfill all its current objectives, the Army must successfully meet several diverse goals. It must attract more young people than ever before, but it must do so under the highest standards in its history. And it must move to offer greater freedom of choice to today's young soldier, while still maintaining its high level of professionalism and discipline.

Four local cadets earn promotions, awards

The Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) has announced membership awards and promotions.

The award and promotion ceremony was held at the CAP's monthly meeting conducted last Wednesday. Six cadets accepted their promotions from Squadron Commander Major Alan Creighton. They are:

Cadet Master Sgt. Roderick Lelethal of 8120 Kolb, Allen Park, Flight Sergeant of B Flight, was promoted to Cadet Warrant Officer and awarded the General Billy Mitchell Achievement Award.

The commander of the squadron color guard, Cadet First Class Kenneth Koster of 5 Oak Blvd., Belleville, was promoted to Cadet Sergeant and awarded the Wright Brothers Achievement Ribbon.

Cadet Airman Amita Jones of 43774 Crowley, Belleville, who also is a member of the color guard, was promoted to Cadet First Class and awarded the General Hap Arnold Achievement Award.

Two squadron leaders, Cadet Airman Michael Hutchinson of 1958 Coventry, Grosse Ile, and Cadet Airman

Mark Michaels of 17191 Martinsville Rd., Belleville, were promoted to Cadet First Class and awarded the General Hap Arnold Achievement Ribbon.

Cadet Recruit Jeanette Flowers of 37262 Menton, Romulus, who has been in the squadron for six months, was awarded the Cadet Recruiter Ribbon.

Accompanying the awards and promotions ceremony was the competition for the best drilled cadet of the squadron won by Cadet Airman Judy Hutchinson.

News of importance: Nominations are open for the new slate of officers for the 1972-73 year. The positions to be filled are, governor, junior governor, prelate, treasurer and three-year trustee. Nominations will close at 6 p.m. on March 22. The election will be held on April 12, from noon to 7 p.m.

Honorary membership is now open to the Opportunity Lodge at Moosehaven as reported in the March issue of the Moose Magazine.

The annual dues are only $1. Send your money direct or to the lodge secretary.

Calendar of events: Re-enrollment "GO-GETTER" campaign is under way and ends June 30. Square-dancing and regular dancing on March 11, St. Patrick's Day Dance, March 18; enrollment ceremonies and dance, March 25. Tonight, March 8, is membership meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Special thanks go to all the Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 1135, who helped put on that fabulous pork-chops dinner for the candidates and members. The evening festivities ended by dancing to

Belleville science fair is planned

The 1972 Belleville Science Fair will again be sponsored by the Van Buren Education Association. This year the fair will be enlarged to include Industrial and Home Arts displays.

No date has been set, but plans call for a weekend in May.

The elementary schools and junior high schools will be competing for ribbons and trophies. The high school will have displays and demonstrations to make this year's fair bigger and better than ever.

Parents and area residents are urged to volunteer their help and skills to the science teachers this spring. Call Richard Humphry, South Junior High, if you could act as a consultant on a student project.

For any information call Mrs. Mary Murrell at the Denton Elementary School, Richard Humphry at South Junior High or Mrs. Nancy McClure at South Junior High.

Sergeant rescues stranded puppy

A Saint Bernard puppy, about nine months old, was rescued last Tuesday morning from an ice flow in Belleville Lake.

The puppy was lassoed and then coaxed to the safety of a rowboat by Sgt. Fred Reimer of the Marine Division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The dog was taken to the Van Buren Township dog pound to await the identity of its owner.

How the little dog got on the ice flow - about 200 feet off shore opposite the Lake Villa Apartments, located at 430 Liberty St., Belleville - is vague. But the persistent barking by the dog attracted the attention of Jess Szabo, an apartment tenant.

Szabo reported he went to Hayward's on Belleville Lake off Main Street to report the dog's predicament. Meanwhile, the city police called the county sheriff's department.

It took Sgt. Reimer more than an hour to reach the dog, since he had to row among ice flows to reach the stranded puppy.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER
BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

We all know people who must be handled with kid gloves. Quick temper, usually brought on by tension or nerves, can cause anger to be quickly aroused. On the other hand, we often think gentle people of good will can not get angry or cause others to get angry. When we think that, we can be awfully mistaken.

For example - can you picture a gentle person of good will, walking in a church and breaking up furniture in a fit of anger? With worsening anger, can you picture him throwing people out of the building? If that happened today, some one would call the riot squad and make a special request for a straight jacket. Yet it did happen, without a riot squad or straight jacket...

Most of us picture Christ as gentle, of constant gracious good will. We picture Him incapable of being angry or causing others to get angry. We are mistaken. We forget the anger He showed when He banged up tables and threw the money changers from the Temple. We forget how He aroused the anger of His captors and how they crucified Him in anger. The thoughts are worth remembering. Even the gentlest of the gentle can righteously get angry and cause others to get angry too...

Helicopters, plane added to state police air fleet

A twin-engine Cessna and four Bell helicopters with federal fund assistance have been added to the Michigan State Police air fleet, Col. John R. Plants, department director, has reported.

The Cessna, as the new Plane 1 at headquarters, and three of the "choppers," including the department's first, a Fairchild-Hiller, obtained in 1969, will be housed in a new hangar leased at Capital City Airport in Lansing.

A quonset-type helicopter hangar at department headquarters in East Lansing is to be converted for classroom training use.

The two-engine white Cessna, a 1969 model, becomes the first multi-engine airplane for the department. It was obtained for about $87,000, including the trade-in of the old Plane 1, a single engine Cessna, from Santa Barbara (Calif.) Aviation.

It has two 285 horsepower turbo-charged engines, can cruise about 210 miles an hour and fly about 850 miles nonstop. It seats two pilots and five passengers and weighs about 6,300 pounds loaded. It was flown to Lansing from California by department pilot, Sgt. Richard Brantner, accompanied by Lt. Chester Nottage, aircraft unit supervisor for the State Police.

Two of the Bell helicopters were obtained on a 10-year loan from the federal government through civil defense use arrangements from the National Guard at Grand Ledge. Two others of the Bell-built craft, one of them reported flyable, were purchased for parts purposes at $150 each.

Troop 821 has Eagle Scout

A member of Boy Scout Troop 821 sponsored by the Haggerty Road Elementary School in Belleville has been promoted to Eagle, the highest rank in Boy Scouting.

He is Ronald A. Curtis Jr., 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Curtis, Sr., 13552 Hannan Rd., Romulus.

At a special Eagle Court of Honor, Ronald, a member of the seventh grade at Belleville's North Junior High School and an honor student, received his promotion to Eagle Scout. The presentation ceremony was conducted on Tuesday, Feb. 29.

Scoutmaster Donald DeTar presented the coveted Eagle badge following a nature talk by Richard Dokas, Belleville High School teacher; and a speech by K.W. Bowles, who was instrumental in Ronald's scouting career.

Eagle Scout Joel DeTar welcomed Ronald to the ranks by presenting him with an Eagle Scout ring. The Rev. Emil Masish of St. Stephen's Byzantine Catholic Church in Allen Park, gave the invocation and closing prayer.

Ronald started in scouting as a Cub Scout in Southgate's Cub Scout Pack 1782. He entered the Haggerty Cub Scout Pack 821 as a Webelo and joined the Boy Scouts after his 11th birthday in 1969.

Ronald, who was named Troop 821's "Scout of the Year" in January, served as troop quartermaster, assistant patrol leader and patrol leader. He has recently been promoted to troop instructor.

In addition to scouting, he is studying the guitar and is interested in conservation, nature and geology. He also enjoys hunting and fishing.

NEW EAGLE SCOUT — Ronald A. Curtis, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Curtis Sr. of 13552 Hannan Rd., Romulus, recently was awarded scouting's highest honor when he received his Eagle Scout award. He is with Boy Scout Troop 821, which is sponsored by the Haggerty Road Elementary School in Belleville.

Information offered on veterans' benefits

Recently the Veterans Association at Eastern Michigan University has started an information program to promote the use of educational and other benefits available to the returning veterans.

This program is currently being headed by two student veterans, Ted G. Martin of 7160 Taft St., Romulus, and Robert L. Ayotte of 33004 Middleboro, Livonia, under the direction of Ralph Cowan, who is from the Admissions & Financial Aids office at Eastern Michigan University.

When asked why the program was started, it was pointed out by Martin and Ayotte many veterans are not being informed of the benefits due them and because of this, many young men returning from the service are not pursuing their educational goals due to the high cost of education.

Our only purpose is to get the most complete, yet easy to understand, information to the returning veteran so that he will be aware of them, and to make use of them to fit their individual needs," Martin said.

By working closely with the newly formed office of CERV (Center for the Education of Returning Veterans), which is based in Detroit, the Eastern Michigan University Veterans Association is making its most effort toward getting the returning veteran to continue his education.

Ayotte, speaking for the program, said "It is our belief, as veterans who have returned to school, that a continued education is now essential to all veterans returning to our society. However, this does not always mean a university program is the only right way for a man. Our objective is to be able to refer any veteran we talk with to some form of educational office, be it vocational, technical, junior college or university level." The opportunities of employment today make the need for a skilled working force essential."

To accomplish this, two-man contact teams are sent out to shopping centers in the metropolitan area to meet with the veteran at his own convenience and in a relaxed and informal atmosphere. These information teams keep current listings of people in a variety of educational institutions and employment agencies in order to make quick on-the-spot referrals, and many times to answer the question right on location.

What Martin and Ayotte suggest is that no matter what situation a veteran is in, he should make contact with either themselves of Cowan at the Admissions and Financial Aids office of Eastern Michigan University and discuss their individual problems or just ask any questions they might have on the current G.I. Bill.

This can be done by visiting the shopping centers at the times and places set in the schedule, below, or by making an appointment with them by calling 487-0207 Ralph Cowan.

Those receiving fifth and sixth highest totals will be elected for two-year terms to fill the vacancies caused by transfers from the Belleville area of Bert Osterberg and Justin Emerson.

Briarwood teen club will meet

The Briarwood Teen Club will be holding a get-together every Friday evening at 7 for all Romulus area young people.

Featured at the weekly sessions will be music, card playing, pool and rap sessions. The youths can also help plan future activities for the group.

The meetings are held in the Community Building of the Briarwood Townhouses, but youths living outside the complex also are welcome.

Easter Seal goal is $2,000

The 1972 goal of the Easter Seal Fund drive in the City of Belleville and Van Buren Township areas is $2,000, reports Joseph Seitz, chairman of the local fund campaign.

He said that the money will be solicited through the traditional Easter Seal mailing and through canisters in local business places.

The funds raised will be used to assist in the operation of the Easter Seal Society's Center, located at 2545 Hyde Park Dr., Inkster.

The center provides services to crippled children and adults throughout Wayne County.

Funds are used mainly to supply equipment and services to individuals who don't qualify for other types of state and local aid.

Seitz is being assisted by Henry Deering and Darryl Raymond, vice chairman.

Drivers warned to get licenses

John Barber, manager of the Belleville branch of the Secretary of State's office, issued a reminder Monday to area motorists that the deadline for use of 1971 license plates is March 31.

Car owners who fail to have their 1972 license or license tags after midnight, March 31, are subject to being ticketed by police.

Lansing officials reported license plate sales are below that of last year at this time and Barber urged car owners to procure their 1972 licenses now and avoid long lines later on.

The Belleville branch of the Secretary of State's office is located at 574 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

To obtain new licenses or license tags, car owners must have the prepared license registration form from Lansing, or the title of the car and prior registration.

In all cases proof of insurance must be shown or an additional payment of $45 will be required, Barber said.

Romulus girl on dean's list

A Romulus girl recently was named to the dean's list at Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C.

Among the 47 Michigan students who made the dean's list was Kathleen Linda Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Malone of 40036 Huron River Dr.

PORCH DECKS OFFERS FUN — Perfect for brunch, refreshments or just relaxing in the sun, this porch deck of 2x4-inch Douglas fir on edge extends outdoor living space, utilizing often neglected side yard. Deck between wings of house offers sheltered area for entertaining, while beveled cedar siding adds pleasant mood. Railing is 1x4-inch cedar, 2x6-inch cap.

Fun in sun available by using 'wasted space'

Fun in the sun isn't the exclusive preserve of the "beautiful people" who cruise or jet off to exotic vacation resorts. There's a whole lot of living to be enjoyed at home just by adding a deck or screened patio.

Sun-splashed living doesn't have to be tucked away in a back yard. Enjoyable outdoor "floor space" can be added at the front or side of many houses, more fully utilizing this often wasted space.

Design interest and a spacious, semi enclosed living area was added to one home observed recently with a porch deck across the side yard and extending between the living and bedroom wings of the house.

The deck's southern exposure makes it a cheery spot for morning coffee or brunch. The deck area between the wings, shaded from the hotter late afternoon sun, is large enough for entertaining and gains a pleasant mood from the horizontal beveled cedar siding on the walls.

A small deck opening off the bedroom wing and up four steps from the main deck is just right for sunbathing. A medium height solid railing of 1x4-inch western cedar boards surrounding the deck affords privacy and wind protection.

Deep roof overhangs have soffits of 2x4-inch Douglas fir on edge, the same as the deck application. Decking was left to weather naturally; railing boards and house siding were stained a matching shade.

The porch deck also serves as a bridge between the two wings, built at different levels on a site that slopes to the street and also down hill away from the porch.

Wrap-around decks extend usefulness to sloping or narrow side yards as well, and often can be combined with storage fences in these areas. Or they can provide additional, partially sheltered access from one area of the to another.

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

In Cobo Hall March 18

Home, flower show opens

Spring is in the air again at Cobo Hall.

The first sign of it will be early next week, when they start marking five acres of floor in Halls A and B for the gardens and other floral displays that will be planted before March 18, opening day of the Home, Furniture and Flower Show.

The exhibition, sponsored by the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit (BAMD), its affiliate, the Apartment Association of Michigan, and other organizations identified with horticulture and the landscaping arts, will be open every day and night through Sunday, March 26.

James C. Scott of James C. Scott & Associates, Bloomfield Hills, the show's landscape architect, has finished the designing of some 20 major gardens for the show, the most ever for the 54-year-old exhibition of houses and everything that goes to make a home.

Within a few days the first soil and sand will be put in place in Cobo Hall for the show gardens. Then will come the trees, the shrubs, the bulbs and thousands of other living things for this, the largest exhibition of any kind to be in Cobo Hall in 1972.

James L. Babcock, president of the 800-member BAMD, estimates attendance will be in excess of a half million persons. He bases his guess on results of the sale of tickets to the show since the first of the year. More than 100,000 advance-sale tickets have been purchased, said Babcock, with two weeks more to go before the discount tickets which cost $1.50 each will be taken off the market. After the show opens, the tickets will be $2.25 at the door of the show.

A feature of the show again this year will be the $20,000 grand prize, which will go to the person estimating the correct number of nails in a small plastic house, now on display in the main office of the National Bank of Detroit on Kennedy Square in downtown Detroit. The House of Nails will go to Cobo Hall the day the show opens and will dominate the Idea Home Village of 34 scale-model homes, replicas of full-scale Idea Homes which are now on display in neighborhoods around Detroit.

Major participants in the show this year include the Metropolitan Detroit Landscape Association, whose members will unveil seven or more major gardens of from 400 to 3,000 square feet in size.

Ivan Frankel, show chairman, said "housing is in the headlines" and will continue to be through this year. He said that was why the show had been expanded to include hundreds of home products and services and made more attractive in every way.

Babcock described the show as one of many "firsts".

One of these, he revealed, will be a wedding in one of the gardens, being designed as a setting for the nuptials, and called the "Garden of the Wedding Bells." Details of the contest, which will select the couple to be married in Cobo Hall during the show, will be revealed next week, said Babcock.

Another major feature of the show will be the unveiling of a full-scale, furnished model house produced by the Wickes Corporation's Manufactured Housing Division of Shamokin, Pa., and Mason, Mich.

This house, which is in the mid-$20,000 price range, is called the Delaware Valley. It has more than 1,200 square feet of living space.

Among the larger commercial exhibits will be that of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. which will feature the use of gas inside and outside the home.

There will be many exhibits of kitchens, baths, furniture and other products for home improvement. There will be a half dozen or more home pools and saunas.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: This is an unusually good day and evening to get your practical affairs on a firm foundation, so build a new structure for your everyday living. This can bring you the benefits you want to have in your life for a considerable period of time to come. Your most positive qualities are touched off well.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Take on some extra work that will give you more prestige and please your employer very much now. Get busy paying your bills, making collections that are long overdue. Show you are an excellent citizen.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Some new project appeals to you, but it first requires some extra study if you want to be successful with it. Out to see right sources of information early. Accept changes more readily and you can make your life more prosperous and easier.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Sit down with experts and talk over new ideas and then carry through with responsibilities you have that are entirely your own. Evening can be particularly fine with the one you love. A show of generosity is good.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) Plan how to have better understanding with an associate where some mutual project is concerned, get better results in the future. You attain a fine meeting of minds quickly. Take it easy tonight.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you sit down with co-workers and iron out points of difference, you find more headway can be made in the future. Do that shopping today for the right articles of apparel, a new chapeau that makes you feel chipper. Have fun in p.m.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you get your important work done early, you can then go out for the entertainment you desire. Showing particular devotion to mate brings fine results, also. Stop being so belligerent.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are able to have things your way at home and do those things that will bring true harmony. Entertain there tonight with zip as only you know how and make others truly happy, delighted.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Much success can result from any appointments you make and keep today, whether for personal or business purposes. Cement better relations with everyone. Handle your correspondence early.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget all that daydreaming and get right down to brass tacks with others and add to your funds. Make the right impression on an important person in business. Get the results you seek.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use that good judgment you have to make personal matters more as you want them to be. Out to social events in p.m. that you really like. Deepen friendships and have more happiness in the future.

Acquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan this day for thrashing out practical affairs and getting them in better order. You have a good adviser who can be of great assistance now with ideas. Don't turn a deaf ear to those who can come to you for aid.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have an opportunity to spend some time with a good pal who has the know-how for getting ahead faster who will give you right ideas. The personal side of your life is an important as the business side now, so be sociable. Show true friendship.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those interesting young people who will be more concerned with achieving fame than merely making money, so slant the education along whatever line is the forte here, the greatest talent. Supervise the play early in life, choose friends carefully, then your youngster can truly make a name for himself, or herself. Permit to choose own religion for best results.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What reform has governor proposed?

By WILLIAM FAUST, State Senator, 13th District

After appointing and receiving the recommendations of an Educational Reform Commission in 1969, Gov. William Milliken proposed a package of 10 bills and two resolutions that contained a total school financing reform program.

However, no major fiscal reform proposal won legislative approval in the 1969-70 session or in the 1970-71 session.

Revising and updating his recommendations last year, the governor urged that a Constitutional amendment be placed on the ballot by joint resolution to make some basic and far-reaching changes in the system of locally levied taxes for school operating purposes.

More recently, he has initiated a petition drive which, if successful in obtaining 300,000 signatures by July, would place before the voters in November an amendment similar to his earlier proposal.

Basically, the governor proposes that we turn almost entirely away from property taxes for financing education. Specifically, his proposed Constitutional change would:

1. Eliminate totally locally levied property taxes for school operating purposes. (Such taxes currently average 26 mills state-wide.)

2. Reduce the existing 50-mill Constitutional limit by 24 mills (to that 26-mill average) to be allocated in the following manner:

For counties ... up to eight mills. (Exact method of levying would require implementation by legislation, but would probably be by action of governing board.)

For townships ... up to 1½ mills. (Legislative implementation similarly required.)

For counties and townships, by a vote of the people, up to an additional six mills.

For educational "enrichment" above the state-provided level, by a vote of the people, up to six mills. (The Governor recommends this optional millage be "equalized," with matching state funds provided to give each district $30 per student for each mill levied in combined state-local funds. A district with State Equalized Valuation (SEV) over $30,000 would realize and retain more than $30 per child for each mill levied.)

For vocational, compensatory and special educational programs and for intermediate districts, up to 4½ mills. (Here again, the governor recommends that state funds be combined with those raised locally. In this instance, however, not only differences in wealth but differences in need among districts would have to be "equalized.")

The total for the above grouping is 26 mills.

3. Millage levied by cities, charter counties, charter townships, charter authorities or levied for debt retirement by any governmental unit (including bonding for building schools) would continue to be excluded from the constitutional limitation.

In addition, millage levied by community college districts would be excluded.

4. The legislature would retain the authority to enact, should it choose, a statewide property tax of up to 26 mills on business property to finance education.

The governor has not recommended such a tax, but believes the authority to levy it must be granted in case the legislature is unable to agree on any on the type of tax to replace school revenue lost through elimination of locally levied taxes on business property.

The legislature would not have the authority, however, to impose a statewide tax on residential or agricultural property.

It must be stressed that the governor's proposed constitutional amendment will not, in itself, impose any new taxes to replace the revenue sources it eliminates.

If the governor's petition drive is successful and the amendment is approved by popular vote in November, then the 1973 legislature will have the responsibility for increasing taxes and/or imposing new taxes to finance education.

The 1973 legislature will also have the responsibility of enacting a plan to distribute state funds to the individual school districts in a manner that is both workable and in accord with previously cited court requirements for equity.

Dems offer amendment

As was discussed in my last article, Gov. William Milliken has initiated a petition drive which, if successful in obtaining 300,000 signatures by July, would place before the voters in November a proposed Constitutional amendment to make certain basic changes in our school financing system.

The Michigan Democratic party is undertaking a similar petition drive to offer the voters an alternative proposal.

Although the Democratic party amendment is not scheduled to be finalized officially as to form and content until later this month, its essential principles are clear enough to make a preliminary comparison possible at this time.

There are substantial similarities between these two suggested Constitutional amendments - and at least one major difference.

Both proposals seek a meaningful measure of property tax relief for Michigan homeowners.

Both would reduce the present 50-mill limit on county, township and school taxes to 26 mills and provide similar allocations of the new level of millage.

Both would eliminate locally levied property taxes for school operating purposes, except for an optional 6-mill levy for "enrichment" purposes and up to 4½ mills for special, vocational and compensatory education programs.

By eliminating the main current source of support for education, both suggested amendments would have the effect of necessitating substantial increases in the state income tax for replacement revenue.

The chief difference is that the Democratic party amendment would remove the present Constitutional ban against a graduated income tax.

Moreover, the Democratic amendment would establish the basic scale (although not the actual rate) for a graduated income tax - requiring that taxable income above $23,000 be taxed seven times as heavily as the first $1,000 of taxable income, with a specific schedule of requirements for intermediate levels of income.

Most other differences between the two proposals involve future requirements as to the funding of education.

They do not appear to be partisan differences of intent or philosophy. Instead, they clearly stem from a Democratic party wish to see certain specific guarantees written into the Michigan Constitution.

The Democratic party wants the state to assume full fiscal responsibility for special, compensatory and vocational education, with three per cent of state funds earmarked for compensatory programs designed to help underachieving students ranking in the lowest 20 per cent on assessment tests, and three mills of any statewide tax that might be imposed on business property earmarked for vocational education.

The governor, by way of contrast, has placed his main reliance in these areas on a flexible 4½-mill property tax that could be levied locally, or on a regional or statewide basis, depending upon legislative implementation-although recognizing additional state funds could be needed.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following includes three more segments of Sen. William Faust's 10-part series on school financing reform in Michigan.

The Democratic party would prefer this 4½-mill levy be permitted only after 1974 and be utilized only locally with voter approval for additional or "enrichment" programs in these areas or in general education.

Governor Milliken has recommended that, should his Constitutional amendment be adopted, the legislature then enact a distribution plan which would guarantee any school district no reduction in per-pupil funds.

The Democratic party wants this specific guarantee written into the Constitution.

In addition, the Democratic proposal would require that any distribution formula adopted by the legislature take into account the variations in costs and needs among school districts, and offer special relief for districts too heavily taxed or too poor to adopt enrichment taxes.

The Democratic party also wants a Constitutional guarantee that the control of local school boards over educational policies and practices will not be diminished by the taxation changes of its amendment.

One other provision of the Democratic party proposal for Constitutional change could have far reaching ramifications. The State Board of Education would have authority to appeal in the courts any school funding budget adopted by the legislature, if the state board believed its provisions to be inequitable or inadequate.

Revenue plan outlined

Michigan voters may have the opportunity in November to amend their state constitution in a manner that drastically reduces the chief source of support for their schools - the locally levied property tax.

Even prior to that time, the Michigan Supreme Court may very well respond to a request made jointly by Governor Milliken and Attorney General Kelley and declare Michigan's present school financing system unconstitutional.

Either development will require the 1973 legislature to enact a totally new revenue distribution system to finance education.

In addition to his proposals for constitutional change, Governor Milliken has made recommendations for such a system.

Under the governor's plan, the state personal income tax rate would be increased from 3.9 per cent to 6.2 per cent to replace the revenue lost through the elimination of school operating taxes on residential and agricultural property. By way of a rough estimate, such an increase should bring in about $677 million in new revenue in 1973-74 to replace a loss of about $668 million.

The governor also recommends that a value-added tax (VAT) on business be enacted to replace the revenue lost through the elimination of school operating taxes on commercial and industrial property. The replacement revenue needed here would be about $560 million in 1973-74 and would necessitate a VAT rate of from 2-2½ per cent depending upon the exemptions provided.)

By way of distributing the new state collected revenues, Governor Milliken suggests a "foundation program" through which every district in the state would be given the funds necessary to hire 47 teachers and other professional staff persons per 1,000 students.

He estimates that had this "floor" of 47 per 1,000 been adopted for 1971-72, 5,000 new teaching positions would have been created and fully 60 per cent of Michigan's public school children could have benefited from improved teacher-pupil ratios.

For the remaining Michigan school children who enjoyed professional-pupil ratios of more than 47 per 1,000 in 1970-71, the governor estimates that all but about 20,000 could have continued to enjoy the same or improved ratios in 1971-72 if their districts had utilized all or part of the six mill "enrichment" option specified in his proposed constitutional amendment.

For this relatively small number of students, he suggests some special provision or "grandfather" clause could have been provided to maintain existing program levels.

Here, it must be stressed again that under the governor's plan, the state would not be dictating either teacher salaries or teacher-pupil ratios.

These would merely be the criteria used to determine the amount of money due each district. Basic foundation state funding would consist of:

1. A "professional service allowance" sufficient to hire 47 professional staff persons per 1,000 students at the highest salary scales existing in each "region" or intermediate district. This allowance would be "weighted" according to the years of experience and degrees possessed by the teachers actually hired; districts employing better qualified teachers would thus receive more money than those employing less qualified teachers.

2. A "non-professional service allowance" equal to 20 per cent of the professional service allowance prior to its being weighted for the qualifications of professionals. (There is no reason to believe, for example, that a teacher with a Ph.D. and 20 years of experience needs a higher-salaried janitor than a newly-certified teacher.)

3. A flat-rate "non - salary allowance," suggested at $100 per pupil, is the projection for 1971-72.

In addition to these foundation program payments, the governor recommends that transportation be financed on roughly the same basis as presently exists, except with 100 per cent state funding rather than the 75 per cent called for under the present statutes.

Local school districts with per-pupil State Equalized Valuation (SEV) of less than $30,000 would receive additional state funds if they voted to exercise all or any part of their six-mill "enrichment" option.

A $5,000 district, for example, would realize $5 per mill on such a levy and receive $25 from the state to make up the $30 guaranteed. A $25,000 district would realize $25 locally and receive $5 from the state for each mill levied.

Noting that total 1971-72 school system costs can be estimated at $1.874 billion, an increase of $170 million over 1970-71, the governor believes his plan could have been implemented for $1.914 billion - $40 million more than the price of the existing system.

Since the governor's plan could not possibly be put into effect prior to the 1973-74 school year, and its cost then would depend on a number of factors not yet determinable, the important thing to be considered at this time is the principle of his plan.

Essentially, Governor Milliken proposes that we abolish local school operating property taxes, that we replace the revenue lost with an increase in the state personal income tax and with a value added tax on business, and that we then

Area SEVs listed

In last week's first installment of Senator Faust's series, The Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman inadvertently published the State Equalized Valuation (SEV) per student for school districts other than those served by the two newspapers.

SEV-per-student listings should have included Flat Rock, $11,154; Taylor, $11,781; Huron, $12,349; Wayne-Westland, $13,060; Romulus, $22,769; Lincoln, $25,474, and Woodhaven, $76,972.

distribute funds to local school districts in such a way as to guarantee each district the means of supporting a basic professional-pupil ratio.

Under this plan, school districts would not be paid identical amounts per pupil - but rather amounts varied according to the following factors:

(a) Regional differences in salary scales for both professional and non-professional employees.

(b) Differences in qualifications of professional employees.

Get this great to-the-shoulder umbrella for only $3.98.

Tab has been helping you save calories for a long time. Now we'd like to help you save money. We'll send you this bubble umbrella for only $3.98. It's clear plastic with red, black or white trim, and has a big span of 33 inches.

To get one, just send in the proof-of-purchase from two cartons of Tab together with the order blank and check or money order.

Then, while you're waiting for your umbrella, pour yourself a glass of Tab.

Tab has only 2 calories in 12 ounces instead of the 72 calories in some diet colas with sugar. How's that for savings?

Mail check or money order (no cash or stamps) to:

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS NOTICE OF LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION

OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF
VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS DISTRICT COUNTIES OF WAYNE AND WASHTENAW,
MICHIGAN
FOR THE SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12, 1972

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT:
PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a Special Election will be held in said school district on Wednesday, April 12, 1972.

Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, as amended, provides as follows:

"The Inspectors of Election at any annual or special election shall not receive the vote of any person residing in a registration school district whose name is not registered as an elector in the city or township in which he resides..."

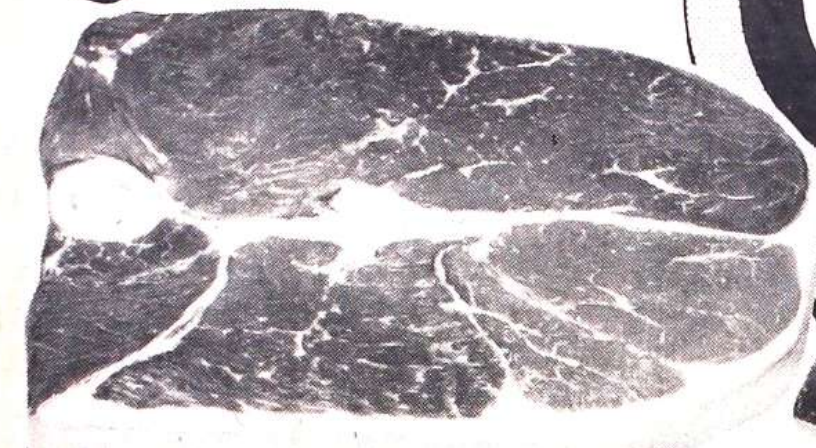

The last day for receiving registrations for said special election will be Friday, March 10, 1972. Persons registering after 5:00 o'clock p.m. on said day will not be eligible to vote at said special election. Persons planning to register must determine when the City and Township Clerks' offices will be open for registration.

Under the provisions of Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, as amended, registrations will not be taken by school officials, and only persons who have registered as general electors with the appropriate Township or City Clerk of the Township or City in which they reside are registered school electors.

This Notice is given by order of the Board of Education of Van Buren Public Schools District, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan.
